

SCORE

Killed in Wreck at Glenwood, Ill.

SEVENTY OTHERS INJURED IN A FRIGHTFUL COLLISION

Loaded Picnic Train Dashed Into a Heavy Freight.

A MISPLACED SWITCH CAUSED IT

The Disaster Occurred Twenty-three Miles South of Chicago Wednesday Night—Dead and Injured.

Chicago, July 14.—(Bulletin)—A revised list today shows 18 dead and 80 injured as a result of last night's wreck. Many of the victims were children.

Fred Dewitt, conductor of the picnic
train, places the blame on Conductor
Cooper, of the freight.

Chicago, Ill., July 14.—Twenty-one persons were killed and 70 injured
last night in a collision on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad at Glenwood, Ill., 23 miles south of Chicago.
The collision occurred between a picnic train from Chicago, which was returning from Momense, Ill., and a freight train, into the rear of which the excursion train dashed at high speed.

The picnic train was coming north and the freight was on the southbound track. A misplaced switch threw the picnic train over on the south-bound track and before the engineer could apply the brakes it ran at forty miles an hour into the rear of the freight. The locomotive, the baggage car and the first coach of the picnic train were demolished and all of the killed and injured were on the locomotive and in the two cars.

Nearly all of the passengers in the first coach were caught beneath the mass of debris and it was here that the loss of life occurred.

The people in the rear coaches were hurled from their seats and many of them were bruised, but all of the serious casualties occurred in the first car. The uninjured passengers and trainmen at once hastened to the relief of those who were pinned under the wreckage. The wreck was two miles from anywhere and much delay ensued before some of the injured, who were held down by heavy timbers, could be extricated. Nothing could be done for them until lifting machinery came from Chicago Heights. The first train to arrive at the wreck came from Chicago Heights and it carried six physicians. A short time afterward a second train arrived from Glenwood, bringing additional physicians and a number of nurses. Darkness had fallen and rescue went on by the light of bon fires.

A regular train was made up at Glenwood, and it brought the dead and wounded to Chicago.

AMONG THE DEAD ARE:

Carl Stewart.
Mrs. Ellen Landers.
Mrs. Emma Palmer, daughter of Mrs. Landers.
Lena Palmer, daughter of Mrs. Palmer.

Lena Hipelhus.
Mrs. Gerringer.
Miss Gerringer.
Walter Gerringer.
Andrew Kramer.
William H. Meyer, 12 years.
John Poduda, 8 years.
Mamie Poduda, 3 years.
Nine unidentified children.

THE INJURED INCLUDE:

Frederick DeWitt, conductor; legs
broken.
Frank Koutney.
John Krihaska.
Rosie Probaski, 8 years, back
broken.
Edward Storers.
Walter Farber, 11 years, both legs
and both arms broken.
Alice Cherry.
Mary Williams.

Harry Gustafson.
Ruth Gustafson, internal; may die.
Mrs. Max Ruter.
Lulu Ruter.
Ethel Ruter.
Gus Swanson.
Thomas E. Duffey.
Agnes Weiss.
Carl Schon.
Gustavus Schou.
Buddie Schon.
George Duffy.
Frank Duffy.
William Johnson.
Michael Kavanaugh.
Archie Neil.
Barbara Volkstrol.
Walter Daugherty.
John Burke, skull fractured.
Mrs. Nellie Tigag, back broken.
Katey Gerringer.
Toney O'Mitsky.
Ida Eckland.

All the dead lived in Chicago, as do all the injured, most of whom are children.

GUilty OF MURDER.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 14.—Antonio Giorgia was found guilty of murder in the first degree this morning. John Van Gorder and his half sister, Anna Farnham, were murdered near Belmont in the first week of May.

THE DEADLY FIRECRACKER.

Zanesville, O., July 14.—Harris
Woods died at the Good Samaritan Hospital yesterday from lockjaw, the result of an injury sustained on the Fourth of July. A giant firecracker exploded in his hand, blood poisoning ensued and then lockjaw.

Tiffin, O., July 14.—Albert Van Camp, aged 13, is at death's door with lockjaw, the result of a Fourth of July accident.

TWO TRAINMEN KILLED.

Cincinnati, O., July 14.—Fireman
Metzgar of Delaware, and brakeman Cassett of Osborn, were instantly killed at Sharon as a train crashed through a trestle. Engineer Wilson of Springfield was badly hurt.

SCHWAB

Is Preparing to Build a Great Tube Mill Near Elyria, Ohio, in Near Future.

Cleveland, O., July 14.—A special train from Pittsburgh says: Before leaving for Germany to examine a new method of making armor plate, C. M.
Schwab completed the details of a new company, partly organized by him, for the manufacture of welding tubing.
The plant is to be near Elyria, O.
Schwab's plans, it is stated, call for the erection of a plant about as large as that of the United States Steel corporation at McKeesport, Pa.

EXCITEMENT IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, O., July 14.—A large crowd of excited men pursued a young white man who attempted to assault a 12-year-old girl on the outskirts of the city yesterday, and undoubtedly would have given him a rough handling had they captured him. The police believe they know the man and expect to arrest him. The girl was not seriously injured.

THREE KILLED IN AUTO. ACCIDENT

New York, July 14.—Racing at top speed with a train for a grade crossing, three men in an automobile were ground to death near Rockville Center,
L. I., last night. The dead: Frank Donnell, a real estate operator, G. F.
Jewell, Brooklyn, Frank Snyder, Brooklyn.

Glass Blowers Meet.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 14.—The glass bottle blowers association is holding its annual convention here. Cities that want next year's convention are Washington, D. C., Terre Haute, Ind., and San Francisco.

Suspect Arrested.

New Castle, Ind., July 14.—William Lockridge, 50, of Greensboro, was arrested last night on suspicion of being connected with the murder of Mrs.
Starbuck and baby.

The weight of a body is said to increase as its temperature falls.

Mexico is the only American republic in which divorces are not granted.

KRUGER

Ex-President of the Transvaal

DIED THURSDAY MORNING AT 3 O'CLOCK

He Had Been Ill for Some Time With Pneumonia.

"THE LION OF SOUTH AFRICA"

Was One of the Most Picturesque Figures of the Last Century—
A Sketch.

Geneva, July 14.—Oom Paul Kruger, former president of the Transvaal Republic, died at Clarenz in Swiss Canton of Vaud, at 3 o'clock this morning. He was born in Colesburg, Cape Colony, October 10, 1825.

Stephen J. Paul Kruger, the "Lion of South Africa," was one of the most picturesque figures of the last century,
a man of intensely religious temperament. He had with it rare executive and martial ability, a wonderful mental power and an indomitable will,
and these qualities combined, were what raised him from a humble grass roofed cottage of a frontier grazer to the occupation of the presidential chair in the Transvaal Republic. At fourteen, having attained the years of majority according to the standard of his country, he joined the army and fought in the punitive expedition against the Matabele. From that time on his life was a military one. At sixteen he was promoted to the post of field cornet, and a few years later he

PRESIDENT KRUGER.

became commandant. In 1883 the choice of his country, the South African republic fell upon him and he was elected president. This post he held until 1900 when the fortunes of war turned against his land and he was forced to flee from the country and take refuge in Holland.

His death was due to heart weakness, resulting from an attack of pneumonia. His daughter and son-in-law were at his bedside when the end came. The body was immediately embalmed and later in the day the remains will be placed in a temporary vault, pending the result of an application to Great Britain for permission to take the body to the Transvaal for final interment.

TO BUILD SCHOOL HOUSE.

Martinsburg, O., July 14.—The special election held here, brought out 45 votes. All but four of these voted in favor of issuing $5,500 worth of bonds to build a school house to take the place of the one destroyed by fire some time ago.

PROPOSED LOCAL OPTION.

Coshocton, O., July 14.—Coshocton is likely to have a Brancock local option law election soon. The parties behind the scheme have it in mind to circulate
a petition for an election in all the district lying east of Sixth street. Matters will probably come to a focus in a few days.

If the election carries, it will drive
five saloons out of that section—three on east Walnut, one on Sixth, and one on east Chestnut.

TOWN

Destroyed by Fire, Five Killed and 150 Injured.

Vienna, July 14.—(Bulletin)—The village of Bodony, Hungary, was nearly destroyed by fire today. Five persons were killed and 150 persons were injured. Fully nine-tenths of the population of the village are left destitute.

DOUBLE HANGING.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 14.—Frank Ous-ley and John Johnson, colored, were hanged at 10:30 this morning for the murder of as Donnelly a grocer. Johnson recently confessed to several murders that heretofore were mysterious. There was a slight faltering at the scaffold, but the execution was a success.

PEACE

Talk is Now Heard at Chicago.

A CONFERENCE OF PACKERS HELD THURSDAY.

An Agreement Reached to Meet The Union Men.

ARBITRATION SEEMS IN THE AIR

Strikers in Several Cities Are Quiet— Meat Prices Are Going Up—The Day's Strike News.

Chicago, Ill., July 14.—Rapid progress was made early today toward a conference which may bring arbitration and peace in the great strike of 22,000 butcher workmen at the stockyards. J. Ogden Armour called a conference of the packers and discussed
plans for an immediate peace meeting with the leaders of the striking workers. The international president, Michael Donnelly, of the amalgamated meat cutters' and the butchers' workmen, on behalf of the men, awaited
the result of the packers' conference, reaffirming his statement that the men stood ready to arbitrate under proper conditions. With arbitra in the air quiet prevails at the stockyards.

At noon today the packers' private conference ended, and it was practically agreed to meet the union men at 2 o'clock to discuss the preliminaries of an arbitration agreement. The disposition of the meeting seemed to be toward the expedition of negotiations
and rapid settlement of the differences.

KANSAS CITY CONDITIONS.

Kansas City, July 14.—Both Armour and Swift continued to run their plants
on a limited scale today. The strikers remain firm and quiet continues.

This morning a few of the strikers were to be seen at the yards or on the streets adjacent. Most of them remained at their homes or gathered about union headquarters. Several hundred policemen patrolled the yards
during the night but this morning half of them were taken off. The packing companies have given orders that all policemen on strike duty be fed at the companies expense.

MEAT GOES UP.

Boston, Mass., July 14.—The effect of the strike of the packing house employes was felt in this city today when there was a general rise in price on all cuts of meat. The increase is from 5 to 5 cents a pound.

MEAT PRICES SOAR.

New Haven, Conn., July 14.—The meat strike has caused a general advance in the price of beef throughout Connecticut.

QUIET IN NEW YORK.

New York, July 14.—All is quiet among the meat strikers today. The men are awaiting events at Chicago.

WADES

Are Electrocuted at the State Prison

YOUNGER MAN SANG WHILE BROTHER DIED

Dramatic Incident at Prison Early Thursday Morning.

PROTESTED THEIR INNOCENCE

insisting To the Last That They Were Innocent of the Crime of Murder.

Columbus, O., July 14.—The execution of Al and Ben Wade early this morning was marked by dramatic incidents. From a mechanical standpoint the executions were highly successful.

Al Wade, aged 43, was the first to go to the chair, and, contrary to the reports that he was crazy with fear,
he was as cool as any other person in the room. He did not have a word to say until the Warden asked him if he wished to talk, and his response was:
"You are killing an innocent man, Warden."

The current was turned into him at 12:02, and after two charges he was pronounced dead at 12:09.

While the official killing of Al was taking place, Ben, the younger brother, was in his cell, and over and above
the stentorian breathing of the spectators he heard his voice singing: "We Are Going Home to Die No More."

Ben Wade sat in the chair at 12:15,
and one minute later the death-dealing fluid was turned into his body. During the 60 seconds Ben conversed with Chaplain Starr and talked to the Warden and the acquaintances he could pick out of the crowd.

Ben was solemn and composed.

"Remember that you're killing an innocent man," he said; "I'm not guilty, so help me God."

"Frank," he said to his attorney Frank Mulholland, of Toledo, "you did all you could for me."

Continuing his talk to his lawyers,
he said:

"Tell the Prosecutor he made an awful mistake. You know he did."

As an after thought he added, "But I forgive him."

"It takes the true courage of a sound
man to say that," responded Chaplain Starr.

Ben said "Good-by" to Sheriff Chanbers of Toledo, to his deputy, Joe Demar, and, spying Guard John Fogle,
he said: "Hello, John."

As the straps were being fixed about his head and limbs, Ben spoke to the Warden in these words:

"Do a good job, gentlemen, and don't burn me up. That's all I want."

As the black cap was adjusted Ben cast an appealing glance upon the assemblage and cried "farewell boys." He was pronounced dead at 12:21, and then the two lifeless bodies were placed in charge of an undertaker and shipped to their mother in Lima, Ohio.

Rev. Mr. Caven of Lima, came here at the request of the mother to give spiritual consolation to the condemned
men.

The physicians, who officiated and who took every possible precaution to prevent a repetition of the Schiller execution, were prison doctors Thomas and Arnold and Drs. C. A. Schimanski and E. E. Gillard of Sandusky, and Drs. Palmer and Wilcox of Columbus.
Judge F. M. Sale and Frank Mulholland, attorneys for the Wades, were with them an hour, attempting to have them tell what they know about the murder of Kate Sullivan. They insisted to the lawyers that they were innocent.

The execution of the Wades for the murder of Kate Sullivan in Toledo, in April, 1900, calls attention to a gang of criminals that infested Northwestern Ohio and Northeastern Indiana for many years.

Albert Wade, Ben Wade and Ben Landis were convicted for the same crime on the testimony, largely, of Miss Johanna Sullivan, an elderly sister, who was badly beaten up at the time of the murder and left for dead.
Johanna Sullivan is a woman over 70 years of age, and her identification of the three men was positive. A large club was used to commit the crime,
and it was one of the most brutal in the history of the state. Robbery was the object of the murder, but only a few dollars were secured.

Ben Landis is now an inmate of the penitentiary and is serving a life sentence for the murder, while the other two men have suffered the extreme penalty of the law. It has always been claimed that Landis wielded the club and was the leader in that, as well as other crimes, but a jurymen, who was averse to the infliction of capital punishment, saved his life.

Landis laughed when Byron Stichel
of Toledo, who defended him, asked him to tell the truth about the Sullivan crime.

Almost the last request of Ben Wade was that Landis should be compelled to witness the execution, and when this information was given to Landis he again laughed and remarked that he would not be a voluntary spectator.
There is a strong connecting link between the Sullivan crime and the "Cellery King" Johnson murder, of Wyandot county. Landis gave the officers the tip on the latter killing,
and in return the men he implicated
told stories that resulted in the arrest and conviction of the Wades and Landis.

There is no doubt but that there was a miscarriage of justice as far as Landis is concerned, and in his announcement that he would not interfere with the sentences imposed on the Wades Governor Herrick said that the discrimination, or the law's failure in favor of Landis, did not warrant commutation of sentence for the Wades.

MERE BOY

Killed One Woman and Wounded An- other in Defending His Mother From An Attack.

Dublin, Ga., July 14.—Information has reached this city of the killing of Mrs. Robert Floyd in the Lowery District in this county by Malcolm Currie, the thirteen-year-old son of Mrs.
Elmira Currie. Young Currie shot
Mrs. Floyd six or seven times, and then shot Mrs. Thomas Floyd, his sister-in-law, in the side, inflicting a serious
but not dangerous wound.

It is said that Mrs. Robert Floyd started toward Mrs. Currie with a knife, when the boy began shooting.

Thibetan Operations.

Birmingham, July 14.—The Birmingham Post today hears in an official quarter that the Thibetan operations are expected to be prolonged for an unknown period. It is believed as soon as the British expedition reaches L'itassa the Thibetans will retire to the north keeping out of touch of the British commissioners and thereby making the conclusion of formal peace impossible.

KILLED BY AN OFFICER.

Portsmouth, O., July 14.—In an effort to escape from the custody of Sheriff Ketter, an unknown negro was shot and killed by that officer last night. The encounter took place in a huggy just outside the city.

The skull of a gigantic mammoth, hitherto unknown to science has been unearthed from the sands of Fayum Egypt. The head is nearly a yard long. On the nasal region is found a double bony horn of enormous size.
Near the eyes is also found a pair of smaller horns. At first sight the entire skull recalls that of the rhinoceros.

We are warned by the London Janet not to open letters at the breakfast table. They are usually laden with germs which it is not well to mix with food. The envelope flaps and stamps that have been moistened by the human tongue may be bristling with contamination.

Coffee cigarettes are manufactured.
Mosquitoes hibernate like bears during the winter.

RUMOR

Of Crushing Defeat is Not Confirmed

NEITHER IS THE REPORT OF WEDNESDAY DENIED

A Big Battle Believed to be in Progress Now.

LITTLE HOPE FOR PORT ARTHUR

Forces Arrayed Against General Kuropatkin Probably Number About 125,000 Men.

London, July 14.—Neither confirmation nor denial has as yet been received from an official source to the reports from Port Arthur. The report that the Japanese had been repulsed
and lost about 30,000 killed and wounded is also without confirmation. It is probable, however, that the Russian position at Port Arthur is fast becoming untenable. One report received this morning from St. Petersburg, containing the rumor that the general staff has received a dispatch from General Stoessel, commanding Russian forces at the port, which states the prospect of holding the place have been lessened by the fact that the Japanese have mounted large siege guns on the Taku mountains. The report adds that General Stoessel had all along expected aid from General Kuropatkin and now that the latter is having his hands full to the north, there is little hope of the beleaguered garrison at the port holding out.

Chifu, July 14.—Private advices from New Chwang indicate that the long expected battle at some point between Kai Chow and Taschi Kao is now in progress.

The forces arrayed against General Kuropatkin probably number in the neighborhood of 125,000 men. General Oku with 75,000 men has for some days past been pressing the Russians back from the south, having driven them
from Kai Chow, and General Nodzu has been rapidly advancing from the eastward, and yesterday reported so close to the point of hostilities that little doubt is felt that his 50,000 men are now co-operating with those of Oku.

The fight will, beyond doubt, prove a terrific one, and may prove to be the first large stride toward the end of the war. Kuropatkin, it is reported, is in a bad way, situated as he is, for not only has he Generals Oku and Nodzu opposed to him, but General Kuroki with another large force is to the northeast of him, and might readily advance fast enough to cut off the Russian retreat toward Mukden.

New Chwang, July 14.—Heavy firing has been heard to the southeast, day and night, for several days past. This is taken to indicate that the Russians are offering stubborn resistance to the Japanese advance. It is reported that the Japanese have occupied Yin Kow.

JAPANESE REPULSED.

London July 14.—The Yin Kow correspondent of the Daily Chronicle asserts that a battle occurred north of Kai Chou (Kai Ping) July 12, when the Japanese were repulsed with great loss.

BATTLE IS PROGRESSING.

Chefu, July 14.—8 a. m.—Private advices just received from Newchwang indicate that the long expected battle between Kai Chou and Ta Tohe Kao
is now in progress.

NOT YET OFFICIAL.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—A special dispatch received from Mukden dated July 12 repeats the story of a Japanese repulse at Port Arthur with the loss of 30,000. The dispatch says:

"News has been received from reliable sources that the Japanese third (Continued on Page 8, 2d Column).

FREE $25 Avalon Bicycle Given Away Free

AT THE Bicycle Race Meet

TO BE HELD Eagle Day at Idlewild Park July 22

Subject to the following conditions:

Every bicycle rider in the city is invited to meet at the Kitzmiller Fountain on the public square at 12:30 p. m. July 22 and join in a Monster Parade to Idlewild Park. Each rider will be given a number. When the park is reached duplicates of the numbers given the riders will be placed in a hat and a drawing will take place in front of the Grand Stand at 3:30; the first number drawn will entitle the holder to an

Avalon Bicycle Free

This offer is open to each and every rider in the city regardless of age or sex.

No numbers will be given after parade starts.

Brush up your old wheel and help make this a Monster parade.

The wheel to be given away is now on exhibition in the window of A. L. Norton Co., first window west of Powers-Miller Co., who are displaying the prizes for races.

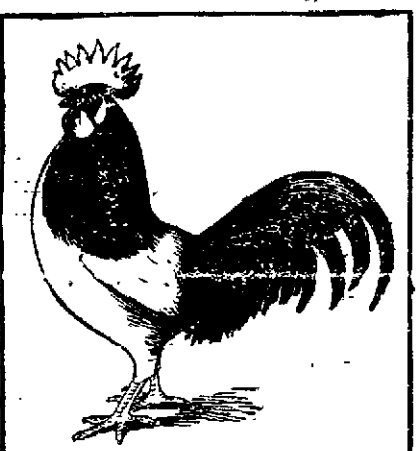

Remember The Date July 22.

Newark Cycle Trade Association

NEW FOWLS.

Remarkable Dutch Birds - Ducks That Are Becoming Popular.

Our knowledge in life comes either from study or experience, and those who have neither seen nor heard of the Lakenvelde could not possibly know them to be a new fowl quite like the Leghorn in form, with white body

A LAKENVELDE COCKEREL.

plumage and black hackle, saddle and tail. The word Lakenvelde means in Dutch "a shadow on a sheet." Dr. A. H. Phelps describes this new breed as follows:

"As their name suggests, these birds are of Dutch origin. In Holland and Belgium, where this breed has been a favorite for more than half a century, it was formerly known as the Jerusalem or the Everlasting Layer. It passed unnoticed by English and American fanciers until about four years ago, when it was taken up by several English breeders and immediately caused a sensation, which has continued to spread and now has a firm foothold upon both sides of the Atlantic. Wherever the Lakenvelde appears a sensation is sure to follow.

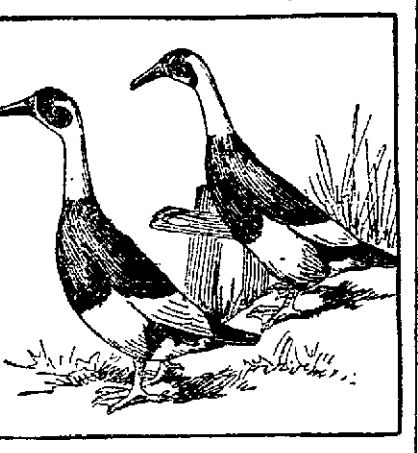

"Imagine for one moment a White Leghorn cock with a tail of mammoth proportions, having the most ample hackle feathering upon both neck and rump. Now imagine that these hackles and tail are of the most intense jet black, and you have a mental picture of the Lakenvelde. It is a living picture in black and white, startling, yet beautiful. The Lakenvelde equals the Hamburg and Leghorn as layers."

Our illustration of this variety is taken from the Feathered World of England.

While the Indian Runner is a new variety of duck so far as the exhibition room in this country is considered, it is not in fact a new breed to the world. In writing of these ducks Mr. J. Donald says they originally came from India to England something over fifty years ago. Soon after this they made their appearance in the show rooms of England and attracted considerable public attention. Some little time after this they were brought to the attention of the American fanciers, who have done much to improve them in this country.

The drakes of this variety weigh from four and a half to five pounds, the ducks about a pound less. They begin to lay when quite young. It is reported that some have been known to produce eggs when less than five months old, and, in addition to this, they are credited with having produced as many as 120 eggs in a year. The eggs of the true variety have a white shell and are not quite so large as those of other varieties.

One of their advantages is the fact that they are great foragers and will go all over the farm in search of animal food, such as bugs and worms of all kinds, of which they are very fond. Frequently they will start out as soon as it is daylight in the morning and only return home in the evening to be fed. This is a disadvantage, as they must be confined in the house every night and kept there in the morning until they have dropped their eggs.

INDIAN RUNNER DUCKS.

These ducks are becoming quite popular on the farm, as they do not care so much for the water as do some other kinds and lay a large number of eggs for waterfowl. Where one male is provided for every five females the eggs are usually fertile and the ducklings very easy to grow. If well cared for, they will dress at from three and a half to four and a half pounds during the winter, and the young make splendid broilers.—Country Gentleman.

Plowing by the Gophers.

It was Darwin who credited the earthworm with making the earth fit to grow crops. Mr. Thompson Seton now notes in the Century the absence of these angworms in some of the western states and tells that the little gopher which burrows at a depth of from three inches to two feet performs the same service. Farmers claim that, objectionable as the work of the gopher sometimes is, the land is twice as fertile after being plowed down by the gopher.

The effect of blue light in reducing inflammation, diminishing pain, promoting absorption of morbid secretions, and curing diseases of the skin, has been shown by several recent researches.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Citizen Legion.
Citizen Legion Rifle Corps shoot to-night.

Look's Fine.
The proprietors of the Hotel Bolton are painting the exterior of the building with white paint.

Dorcas Society.
The Dorcas Society of the Holy Trinity church of the West End, will meet with Mrs. Herman Pagel Friday afternoon.

Preaching at Summit.
Rev. U. S. Milburn of Cortland, N. Y., will preach at the Universalist church, Summit Station on Sunday morning, July 17, at 11 o'clock a. m.

Time Changes Friday.
Commencing July 15 cars will leave the interurban station for Columbus 15 minutes past the hour. Cars for Zanesville, 45 minutes past the hour. 14d2t

Ill in Detroit.
Mr. Pat Downey has received a message that his sister, Miss Nellie Downey, a prominent school teacher in the Newark schools, is ill with appendicitis in Detroit.

Social Friends.
There will be a meeting of the Social Friends Friday afternoon at the usual hour at the home of Mrs. Frank Emberry, 172 Grant street. The election of officers will take place.

Farmer's Horse Fell.
While Mr. Sheet, a farmer, who resides west of Newark, was hitching his horse Tuesday night to drive home the animal fell down three times breaking the harness, bruising himself and twisting the shafts of the vehicle out of shape.

Baptist Assembly.
Dr. Emory W. Hunt, president of Denison University, Granville, is acknowledged to be the strongest speaker in the denomination in this State. His address to young people Sunday afternoon, will be a powerful appeal to the young to make wise and right choice in life. His addresses afterwards during the following week will be well worth the time and sacrifice, if necessary, to hear.—Mt. Vernon Republican News.

The State Fair.
The arrangements in each of the fifteen classified departments of the Ohio State Fair, which opens August 29 for five days, are fast crystallizing. The grounds and buildings are being put in complete readiness for the reception of exhibits. F. A. Ballou of Newark, will be one of the superintendents on farm products, fruits, flowers and plants; B. I. Jones of Granville superintendent of the department of horses; J. H. Stone and Miss D. G. Cherry, both of Newark, will be superintendents in the woman's work and art department.

Deep Interest Manifested.
Deep interest is being manifested in the revival meeting being held at the Pine Street church. While Miss Dillon sang some of her soul-inspiring solos and led the congregation in the singing of the "Zion" the spirit of God seemed to brood over the congregation, and all felt that indeed they were in His presence, and His blessing was upon them. The sermon was one that brought the truth home to all hearers. Tonight the song service will be held at 7:30 and the sermon at 8, subject: "On Trial."

Baseball News.
We wish to advise our subscribers that we have made arrangements to secure reports on all games played by the Newark team this season and will be pleased to furnish same free of charge to everybody interested in the minute the game is over, no matter what part of the country the boys are in.

Those desiring the news will please call for the Chief Operator.
CENTRAL UNION TELEPHONE CO.
W. W. ALDERSON Mgr.
7-13-2t

Dancing at Idlewild Park Thursday night. Full orchestra. 12d3t

APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old. In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible, one's youthful appearance. It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxurious growth of hair. The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness. Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use. Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as Dandruff cure. Accept no substitute—there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

C. T. Bricker, Special Agent.

LOCAL NEWS

LEADING EVENTS TOLD IN A FEW LINES.

A Summary of the Principal News of the Day in Newark and Vicinity.

Columbus court grants injunction temporarily restraining Buckeye Lake company from interfering with Odeil in the use of Buckeye Lake pier.

C. W. Sterrett not admitted to bail. Wife was buried today in the Barnes cemetery.

Mrs. Charles Youse died last night.

Miss Julia Harris is dead.

Piqua 2, Newark 0.

Sacred Band Concert at Buckeye Lake Park, Sunday, July 17. 7-13-3t

Bert Huston, 70, killed himself at Granville this afternoon with a pistol. Despondent over paralysis.

F. C. Hoffer sues policemen.

Furniture men's outing, July 22.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. These pills change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by Hall's Drug Store.

ON THE LAKE

Beech Islanders Enjoying An Outing— Election of Officers Thurs. day Afternoon.

At 9 o'clock Thursday morning three cars left the interurban station for Buckeye Lake, carrying the members of the Beech Island club and their friends who enjoyed a day's outing at the lake. Dinner was served by Mr. Joseph Kuster, who for years has been the caterer for the Beech Island club. An important business meeting of the club will be held, at which officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

The W. C. T. U. Fountain

The condition of the fountain donated by the W. C. T. U. of Newark to the city, and which was erected at the southwest corner of the Court House Park, is no credit to the city. By some accident the larger parts of the fountain have fallen down and lie in ruins at the corner of the park, where it was intended to be a thing of beauty and an ornament to the city. The fountain ought either to be properly repaired or removed altogether.

One of the notable results of the Japanese war is that jiu jitsu is to be taught at Harvard next year. Professor Y. Yamashita of Tokyo will begin the instruction in the Japanese art of wrestling at the opening of the fall term, and the course will require only $100 as an entrance fee. Since jiu jitsu has been given the official sanction of President Roosevelt, Professor Yamashita will probably be buried under $100 bills before he has been in Cambridge two days.

The young man on the rear seat was smoking a decoction of cabbage leaves and hemp. Beside him was the only vacant seat on the car, so the fidgety man took it. After wriggling and squirming for a time the latter blurted out: "Phew! That's a vile weed you're burning." "Yes," drawled the other, "it is bad, very bad—almost as bad as your manners."

The Filipinos at the world's fair protest against having to wear clothes. As they are too restless to pose as statuary, there seems no other way out of it. They might compromise on fashionable bathing suits or ball dresses.

A man in one of the middle states offers to teach agriculture by mail. A better way to learn it, however, is to take a course as a Kansas harvest hand.

Be genuine. There is nothing so incongruous as a 2 by 4 man with an 8 by 10 manner.

Remarkable Operation.

A remarkable operation was recently performed at the St. Antoine hospital, Paris, by the extraction of a large nail from a man's lung. After six preliminary experiments the foreign body was located and seen through the "bronchoscope." The first attempt at extraction failed, but the second was completely successful, the nail being dislodged from an inner ramification of the right lung and removed up the windpipe by means of a magnet, the operation lasting only five minutes.

When you want fresh cut flowers, phone Baldwin's green house. Prompt delivery. 1-27-d-tf

ABOUT PEOPLE.

O. W. Bloom of Lima is in the city.

C. L. Fult. of Lancaster is in the city.

D. Beck of Mansfield is in the city today.

Daniel Aitshool was in Coshocton on Tuesday.

Charles Bell of Zanesville was in the city on Tuesday.

Dr. W. K. Essington of Somerset, was in the city on Tuesday.

R. S. McRay of Marietta, was in the city on Wednesday on business.

John Miller and J. A. Prior are attending the Columbus race today.

Miss Mary A. Kidd of Granville street, left today for New York.

Peter Walruth of Hanover, was in the city on business Wednesday.

Hon. James T. Irvine of Zanesville, was in the city on Wednesday.

Squire McIntosh of the Broadway road, near Pataskala, was in Newark on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Whitehead, of 437 West Church street, are spending the week in Toledo.

Dr. J. H. Mattingly of Johnstown was in the city on business on Thursday.

Miss Fannie Brown of Zanesville, is visiting friends in the city for a few days.

Misses Daisy Farmer and Alice Maybold are spending the day in Zanesville.

Rev. James E. Shannon, wife and children of Marion, Ind., are visiting at the home of James S. Shannon.

Mrs. Harvey Jameson and children of Columbus, who have been visiting relatives here, have returned home.

Mrs. Gamlick of Newark, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. William A. Silcott, returned to her home on Wednesday.—Mt. Vernon Banner.

Mrs. Edward Kibler and children, and Mrs. L. B. Wilson and son left today for Fishkill on the Hudson to visit Mr. Benj. Wilson and sister.

Miss Bessie Watkins of Granville, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. R. W. Howard, of Elmwood avenue.

Edgar Perry of the postoffice force of Zanesville and his wife are spending their vacation at the home of James S. Shannon.

Mrs. T. L. Craig and Mrs. Carrie Coleman left Thursday for Steubenville as delegates to the W. M. M. society of the A. M. E. church.

Mrs. J. I. Smith of the East End, is visiting his father, William Strasider in New Lexington, and his aunt, Mrs. William Raynor of Roseville, Ohio, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hedrick of Columbus, who have been visiting her father, Henry Baker, at his home on North First street, have gone to Niagara Falls and Buffalo to visit their son, George.

Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Hughes of Columbus, who have been visiting friends and relatives here and in the vicinity for some days, returned home on Thursday morning, after having had a very delightful visit.

Mrs. Rebecca Lawson has been taking quite an outing for her. She was over at Newark and spent a week, among the many places she visited being Idlewild park and the reservoir. While there she saw a fish that had just been caught that weighed six pounds and three quarters. They said it was the largest that had been caught this summer. It was a carp. When she got back to Columbus, her children showed her another good time. She spent one day at Olentangy park, one day at Green Lawn cemetery, one evening at the Empire theatre besides other places too numerous to mention.—Westerville Public Opinion

NOTICE.

I wish to notify all concerned that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Mrs. Nellie V. Miller. 7-14-tf CHAS. G. MILLER.

Cobalt is one of the minerals found in the atmosphere of the sun and in meteorites. It usually occurs associated with nickel, arsenic and sulphur, and is frequently an incidental product in the working of copper, bismuth and nickel ores.

The effects of alcohol are especially seen in the case of mothers among the lazing classes of England: 50 per cent of the offspring of inebriate women die at birth or under two years of age, while in the case of sober women only 25 per cent die.

Hair Escaping? No wonder. Your hair is starving. Feed it before it all leaves you. Then you can keep what you have and add greatly to it. Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair-food. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE WANTS.

MISCELLANEOUS WANTS.

Wanted—All kinds of home cooked articles to sell on commission at King's Daughters Exchange, 35 S. Fourth street. Call Friday afternoon, or address Miss Clara McDonald, 20 North Sixth street. 14d2t

Wanted—Girls to learn to make cigars. None under 11 years of age need apply. Swisher Bros. 13d12t

I move and raise houses. B. Pendleton, 290 Buckingham street. Citizen phone, White 7052. 7-13d1m

Wanted—Girl to do general housework. Inquire at 132 West Church street. 12d3t

Wanted—You to telephone us about your lawn-mower, repairing or painting. We'll do the rest. Al. Parkinson, rear 19 South Fourth street. Old phone 625 Y. 5-24dtf

Usually the silk is colorless on leaving the body of the silkworm, but sometimes it is straw yellow or greenish.

British Columbia has more Buddhists than Baptists, more Confucians than Congregationalists, and nearly as many pagans as Lutherans

In Burma and Brittany yellow is the color of mourning, in Persia pale brown, in Ethiopia grayish brown, in Syria and Armenia blue, in China white.

THE HORRORS OF THE DRINK HABIT

Cured Permanently BY THE ST. OMER REMEDY.

Can be administered without the patient's knowledge, in tea, coffee, milk or water, and has no taste or odor. It will positively destroy the craving for alcohol in the most obstinate cases.

Indorsed by W. C. T. U. members, leading physicians and temperance workers.

Mr. Albert C. Smith, President Suffolk Dispensary, a charity chartered under Mass. laws, says:

"We use no other remedy in treating cases of drunkenness. The St. Omer Remedy we have found reliable, highly effective and perfectly safe. It is worthy every claim made for it. It is a wonderful remedy."

ABSOLUTELY NO BAD EFFECTS FROM ITS USE. CURES GUARANTEED. LARGE SIZE PACKAGE 50 CENTS.

Sample free by writing Mrs. A. P. Eldridge, Secy., the ST. OMER SOCIETY, Rich Bldg., Boston, Mass.

The ST. OMER REMEDY is sold by ERNEST T. JOHNSON, East Side Square, Newark, Ohio.

$100 REWARD. $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing her work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for free testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO. Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

FOR SALE.

For Sale—A fine saddle horse. Inquire of J. F. Cherry, 57 W. Main street, Newark. 14d3t*

For Sale—Second hand show cases at Collins' drug store. 13d3t*

For Sale—The fastest launch on Buckeye Lake. Enquire at 10 Hancock street. 12d3t*

For Sale—Pure cider vinegar, by gallon, keg or barrel. Delivered on short notice. Farmers line phone G-4, Showman farm. 13d3t*

For Sale—One good family horse, one 6-year-old bay horse, weight 1225; road wagon and harness at 348 W. Church street. 13d3t*

For Sale—Refrigerator, size 6 x 8. As good as new. Cheap if sold soon. Address letter to Box M. W., care of Advocate. 7-9d1m

Best Ice Cream in city. 5 gal. lots at 75c gal. Single gal. $1. The old established Kandy Kitchen. 7-7d1m

FOR SALE—Building lots on North Cedar street, between Methodist church and Tuscarawas street. Inquire at 79 Gay street. 7-5dtt

FOR SALE—Half or full interest in a good paying business in Newark. Only small capital required. Inquire at Advocate office, or address "Business" care Advocate. 7-5dtt

LOST AND FOUND.

Strayed or Stolen—From 276 Wilson street on Thursday morning, a bay horse with short tail. Finder will be rewarded by returning to above address. It

Taken Up—Hog. Owner can have same by calling on Albert Glass on the VanVoorhis farm, 3 miles west of Newark, and paying all charges. 14d2twt

Lost—Female setter dog; color black, white and tan. Finder will be rewarded by returning to Hoover & Graves' stable. 13d3t

Lost or Stolen—Ten weeks' old Bull-terrier pup. Pure white except small black spots on tip of nose; answers to name of Rowdy. Also female brindle and white Bull-terrier, full grown, ears cut short, answers to name of Fan. Pup gone since July 11th and female since June 10th. Reward if returned to Walter Dickinson, 363 Hudson avenue. 7-13dttf

Lost—A pocket book between South Side Canby Kitchen and postoffice; containing a receipt and $4. Finder return to this office. 13d3t*

FOR RENT.

For Rent—Furnished rooms at 238 S. Williams street 12d3t*

For Rent—Furnished room at 140 Union street. 8d3t

WITHOUT A RIVAL FOR TONE, TOUGH AND DURABILITY

Vose Pianos

Sold only by

THE MUNSON MUSIC GO.

27 W. Main St., Newark, O.

SUMMER FOOTWEAR

ALL THE LATEST.

Linehan Bros.

SHOES-HATS

THE NEWARK DAILY ADVOCATE.
Published by the
ADVOCATE PRINTING COMPANY.
J. H. NEWTON, Editor.
C. H. SPENCER, Associate Editor.
A. H. PIERSON, Business Manager.
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
Single copy.....2 cents
Delivered by carrier, per week.....10 cents
IF PAID IN ADVANCE:
Delivered by carrier, one month.....$1.40
Delivered by carrier, six months.....$7.25
Delivered by carrier, one year.....$12.50
By mail, strictly in advance, one year.....$12.00
By mail if not paid in advance one year.....$13.00
All subscribers who arrange to pay at the office are subject to a call from the collector if payment is not made when due.

Democratic National Ticket.

For President,
ALTON B. PARKER,
Of New York.

For Vice President,
HENRY G. DAVIS,
Of West Virginia.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

Secretary of State,
A. P. SANDLES,
Of Ottawa.

Supreme Judge,
PHILIP J. RENNER,
Of Cincinnati.

Clerk of Supreme Court,
PERRY MAHAFFEY,
Of Cambridge.

Dairy and Food Commissioner,
QUINLIN M. GRAVATT,
Of Wooster.

Member of the Board of Public Works,
JAMES H. FERGUSON,
Of Springfield.

For Congress,
J. E. HURST,
Of Tuscarawas County.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET

Auditor,
C. L. RILEY.

Sheriff,
WILLIAM LINKE.

Recorder,
J. M. FAIRMER.

Commissioner,
J. E. BROWNFIELD.

Infirmary Director,
J. C. MORRISON.

County Surveyor,
FRED S. CULLY.

Figures That Show Democrats Can Win.

The battleground of the campaign must be in the States of New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, Indiana and Wisconsin. The total of the electoral votes of these States is 104, which added to the 151 of the solid South, makes 255 electoral votes. As 239 constitute a majority of the electoral college, the Democrats can elect Judge Parker and have 16 votes to spare in the States here named. Then the Democrats have the best chance to carry the States of Colorado, Montana and Nevada, which make 11 more electoral votes. All these make a grand total of 266 electoral votes, or 27 more than is needed to win.

This is the first time since 1892 that the Democrats could start in the Presidential campaign with any hope of success. The splendid prospect which these figures make plain for Democratic victory in November, entitles the party with a confidence it has not possessed for 12 years.

Let Mr. Bryan be Practical.

Mr. Bryan supports Judge Parker on what he calls four good reasons. They are certainly good reasons for they are founded on distinctly living issues. They constitute the differences between the parties in the campaign which have been brought about by the actual con-

After Dinner

To assist digestion, relieve distress after eating or drinking too heartily, to prevent constipation, take

Hood's Pills

Sold everywhere, 25 cents.

ditions. Now let Mr. Bryan make a campaign in his own State of Nebraska for the purpose of carrying a Legislature that will elect him to the United States Senate. By that means Mr. Bryan can do something practical to advance both himself and the political doctrines that he claims to represent.

Speaking with reference to the platform declaration of the Massachusetts Republicans that a "mere catchword" could not be legislated or negotiated into substance, the St. Louis Republic remarks:

"That it is inconsistent makes no difference to the machine. The 'mere catchword' is, or rather has been the biggest part of the machine's stock-in-trade for many years. 'Reciprocity,' 'Protection' and, especially, 'Prosperity,' have been rich possessions. It is rather surprising to witness the belittling of one of them now."

It will occur to most people that the Republican party has been the most colossal catchword user in the history of the country. But what about the "Full Dinner Pail" in this campaign? That was Hanna's last slogan, and the Pail is about empty.

Judge Parker's Strength.

(New York World.)
Democrats in all parts of this State share The World's confidence that "Judge Parker will carry New York by a rousing majority."

Mr. Roosevelt has never been a great "vote getter" in this city or State. When he ran for Mayor in 1896 he got only 60,435 votes, while Erhardt received 73,090 in 1888 and Einstein 98,000 in 1892, as straight Republican candidates.

When Mr. Roosevelt ran for Governor in 1898 even the glamour of his Cuban war record enabled him to beat Mr. Croker's Van Wyck No. 2 by only 17,286 plurality. Two years before Mr. McKinley had carried the State by 268,000. In 1894—before the Bryan blunder—Governor Morton carried the State by 150,000, and the Republican candidate for Secretary of State was elected by 90,000 in 1895.

Mr. Roosevelt's course as President has not strengthened him in his own State. On the contrary it has weakened him. Neither Platt nor Odell likes him. Conservative business men distrust him. The independent voters have been disappointed and disgusted at his cultivated alliances with the most notorious scoundrels of his party—Lou Payn being the latest.

Judge Parker has the confidence and esteem of his own party and the respect of the independent voters. He was elected to the Supreme Court by the unanimous vote of both parties, and carried the State for Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals by 67,000 the year after the great landslide to McKinley.

The Democratic party is united and enthusiastic for its candidate for President. The masterful manner in which with a few simple, strong honest words he brought order out of chaos at St. Louis and reunited and revived the party, has opened the way to another "Wilden and Cleveland campaign."

New Jersey and Connecticut have the fixed habit of voting with New York in Presidential elections. The Democratic leaders in those States are confident that they will do so this year. The nomination of ex-Senator Davis for Vice President removes any doubt that may have existed as to West Virginia and Maryland, and with the South solid the carrying of any one of the debatable Western States will send Judge Parker to the White House.

It will encourage the Democrats of the whole Union to learn that Judge Parker will go into the campaign with all his heart and mind—that he will be the Leader as well as the Candidate. It will be a great and inspiring battle!

Sacred Band Concert at Buckeye Lake Park, Sunday, July 17. 7-13-3t

The quagga, a South African animal of the horse family, resembling the zebra, which was hunted out of existence by the Boers for its hide appear to have become extinct in Cape Colony about the year 1865, while the last survivor of its kind, as far as is known, died in London Zoological Gardens in 1872.

Reptiles and amphibians are strongly attracted by water. They go straight toward it, even when they are at distances so great that they could not divine its presence by any of the senses known to us.

LEADERS OF DEMOCRACY IN LINE FOR PARKER.

Senator Bailey and Charles A. Towne Predict His Election—Mr. Davis Thoroughly Confident.

Lexington, Ky., July 14.—United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, who has been regarded as a strong Bryan sympathizer, expressed his disapproval of the course taken by Bryan in his attack upon Judge Parker and the action of the Democratic convention. Senator Bailey arrived here from St. Louis. He said:

"While I am an admirer of Bryan, I cannot give my approval to the course he has taken. I think he has made a mistake, and what he has said about Judge Parker and the convention would have been better left unsaid."

"I do not think it will affect the vote to any extent, as I firmly believe Judge Parker will be elected. The famous telegram which he sent to the convention will probably cause some irritation in the South and the West, but it will not affect one solitary electoral vote, while it will mean an added strength from the North and the East. For this reason I regard Parker's election as almost certain. The nomination of Parker means that the Republicans will lose New York, while the nomination of Senator Davis means that West Virginia and Maryland will be in the Democratic column. There is nothing worthy of notice in the argument that Davis is of too advanced age for the office. He sat up all night on the resolution committee, and was one of the most hale and vigorous of all the members upon it."

Senator Bailey stated that he would take part in the campaign and would heartily support the ticket.

CHARLES A. TOWNE
Says the Chances Are Bright For the Election of Parker.

Hamilton, O., July 14.—Charles A. Towne, former United States Senator from Minnesota, arrived in Hamilton, and is the guest of his uncle, Mr. Frank Fargo, with whom Senator Towne's aged parents are now visiting. The distinguished statesman said that he firmly believes that the Democratic ticket will win, and that while the Dakotas, Nebraska and Iowa may give but half-hearted support, the ticket has so greatly strengthened the party in the East that it will completely overbalance the remnants of Populism. Speaking of Judge Parker's famous telegram the Senator said:

"Under the circumstances the receipt of Judge Parker's telegram and the answer sent by the convention to all intents and purposes so modified the platform as to include the declaration for the gold standard. So far as I am personally concerned I find nothing in this to worry about. As I have repeatedly said in the last four years, this coinage question cannot possibly be a live issue politically so long as the gold supply continues. If it does so continue a declaration is not necessary. If it does not continue all declarations will be futile. In other words, it is conditions, not platforms, that make issues. I believe that Judge Parker will grow in popular appreciation as the campaign progresses and the contrast between his judicial mind and strong constitutional tendencies and Roosevelt's impetuosity and absolutism will be more and more understood."

Senator Towne will leave for New York and on August 20 will address a ratification meeting in Chicago.

"OF COURSE
"I'll Support My Own Platform," Said Senator Davis.

Elkins, W. Va., July 14.—"Of course I'll support my own platform," was the decided statement of Henry G. Davis, the Vice President candidate.

"And why should I not call it my platform," he added, "when I served on the St. Louis subcommittee which worked long and hard in preparing it. With the platform I am perfectly satisfied. As to the effect of Mr. Parker's stand I am confident that the party has been strengthened thereby. Further than this I cannot speak at present."

This day, as the others since Sunday, has been a busy one for the old gentleman, yet he stands up well under the strain. A perfect deluge of congratulating letters has been flooding the postoffice. The stenographer spent two hours in opening the letters from one delivery. Many telegrams were also received, among them was one from Mr. Limantour, the Secretary of Treasury for Mexico, and a possible successor of President Diaz, who knew the Senator winter before last when he served on the Pan-American Congress.

A conference was held between the state party leaders at Graceland preparatory to the State Democratic Executive committee meeting at Huntington. Friday evening Candidate Davis goes to Washington, and from there to New York to confer with Hill, Murphy and other leaders. He will reach New York Sunday morning.

WHAT WE HAVE

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE LICKING COUNTY BANK.

We have a capital stock of $165,000.00 all paid in.

We have 57 stockholders each of whom is worth at least twice their stock-holding.

Our largest individual stock-holder owns but $10,500.00 of our stock.

We have a fund of $367,577.56 made up of our capital stock of $165,000.00, our stockholders' liability of $165,000.00, our surplus of $24,030.00 and $33,877.56 undivided profits, as a guarantee fund for the protection of our depositors, (not including our loans of $501,000.00).

Our Auditing Committee is composed of the following well known business men: Wm. Allen Veatch, E. T. Rugg and James K. Hamill.

Our officers and employees are all bonded in The United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company of Baltimore, Md., for $75,000.

We loan money on first mortgage security on all amount over $1,000.00 at 6 per cent. per annum.

Make your applications today; if your title is good, and your property worth it, you get your money tomorrow. No delay. No trouble.

These figures make us the largest, strongest, most reliable bank in this county.

We want your loans. We want your business.

THE LICKING COUNTY BANK CO.
W. N. FULTON, President.
E. W. CRAYTON, Cashier.

MT. VERNON MAN

Hungry, Tattered and Dazed, Found in Westfield, Iowa, After a Strange Disappearance.

Omaha, Neb., July 14.—E. A. Emerson, formerly of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, but now a prominent business man of Omaha, who disappeared from his home in this city 10 days ago, has been discovered at Westfield, Iowa, in a dazed condition and unable to remember who and what he was. He was brought to his home in Omaha and is now partially recovered. He was recognized by a customer of the house of which he is manager and his relatives notified.

Ten days ago Emerson walked out of his office, telling his assistant he would return in 20 minutes. He was seen no more until yesterday, although hundreds of people were searching for him. He has no recollection of his movements after he left his office and cannot tell how he reached Westfield. He was ragged and dirty and hungry, and his cash and valuables had disappeared.

When recognized at Westfield he was placed in the hands of a physician and soon recovered enough to telegraph his family of his whereabouts.

Sacred Band Concert at Buckeye Lake Park, Sunday, July 17. 7-13-3t

No Pity Shown.

"For years fate was after me continuously," writes F. A. Gullidge, Verbena, Ala. "I had a terrible case of Piles, causing 24 tumors. When all failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me. Equally good for Burns and all aches and pains. Only 25c at Hall's Drug Store."

The examination of the physical condition of the 1,800 street sweepers employed in New York City, shows that 283 are affected with tuberculosis, contracted during the course of their work by inhaling disease-laden dust.

In Paris bacteria "soup" is used for exterminating rats. The scientists estimated that they had killed fully 95 per cent of the rats and mice living in the tract treated.

BORN
A brand new idea.

A tooth brush with a flexible handle.

Wonderfully pleasing.
Say "P.S. (Proprietary) please,"

to your regular dealer.

3 sizes—Adult's, Youth's, Child's—at all dealers. Always sold in the yellow box.

BARNYARD MANURE.

Estimates of Its Value and Various Uses to Be Made of It.
By W. H. BEAL, Office of Experiment Stations.

Barnyard manure is the most important manurial resource of the farm and should be carefully saved and used. It represents fertility which is drawn from the soil and must be returned to it if productiveness is to be maintained. It not only enriches the soil with the nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, but it also renders the stored up materials of the soil more available, improves the mechanical condition of the soil, makes it warmer and enables it to retain more moisture.

On the basis of prices charged for commercial fertilizers it is estimated that the average value of the manure annually produced by each horse or mule is $27, by each head of cattle $19, by each hog $12 and by each sheep $2. Probably less than half these values are actually realized in practice.

The urine is by far the most valuable part of the excreta of animals. It is especially rich in readily available nitrogen, which rapidly escapes into the air if special precautions are not taken to prevent its loss. It is also rich in potash, but deficient in phosphoric acid. It should, as a rule, be used in connection with the solid dung, the one thus supplying the deficiencies of the other and making a more evenly balanced fertilizer.

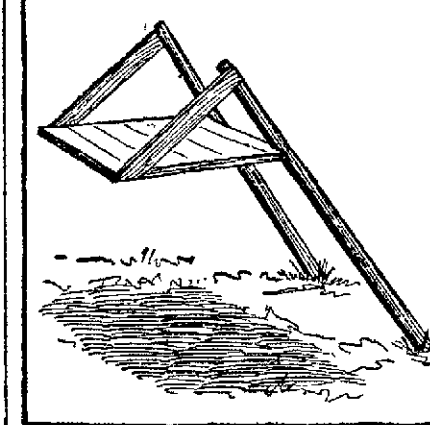

The disposition to be made of the manure of the farm, both fermented and unfermented, must be determined largely by the nature of the crop and soil. Where improvement of the mechanical condition of the soil is the principal object sought, fresh manure is best adapted for this purpose to heavy soils and well rotted manure to light soils. Where prompt action of the fertilizing constituents is desired, the best results will probably be obtained by applying fresh manure to the light soils, although excessive applications in this case should be avoided on account of the danger of "burning out" of the soil in dry seasons.

Fresh manure has a forcing effect and is better suited to early garden truck, grasses and forage plants than to plants grown for seed, such as cereals, or to fruits. Direct applications to root crops, such as sugar beets and potatoes, or to tobacco often prove injurious. The manure should be spread when carried to the field and not left in heaps to leach.

The rate of application must be determined by individual circumstances. As a rule, it is better to manure lightly and frequently than to apply a large amount at longer intervals.

Shade For a Calf.

It is all very well to tie a calf out of doors where he can have a bite of green grass, but a shady spot to lie down in is imperative, remarks Ameri-

THE CALF SHADE.
can Agriculturist. The sun beating down upon an unprotected calf greatly retards growth. If there is no natural shade at hand, use the device shown in the cut. Two stakes, driven on a slant, support a square frame of wood that is covered with burlap or any cheap cloth. Tie the calf so he can just reach the shade, but cannot tangle the rope about the stakes. The stakes can be shifted to new ground in a moment when it is necessary to move the calf.

Disapproval of the Dust Spray.

Many of the Illinois orchardists do not approve of dust spraying for fungous troubles. Some time ago one of the speakers before the State Horticultural society voiced the objection thus: "I think that the wise man, if he happens to be a fruit grower, will keep away from the dust spray until the experiment station has settled the question, and if there are any who have lingering ideas in their minds that there are some merits in the dust spray I would advise them to wait awhile until the thing has been settled and not waste any money on materials and spraying machines, but to stick to the thing that we know is good, and when these other things are a success we can invest in them." It is suggested by some of the fruit growers that in the compounding of the dust spray the chemical property which in the liquid is effective against fungus is neutralized or in some way changed. On the other hand, one of the large orchardists of southern Illinois announces his satisfaction in the use of the dust spray.

Feeding For Color In the Yolk.

Different rations very clearly affect the color of the yolk in eggs. Messrs. Stewart and Atwood of Virginia have found that when the grain ration consisted of wheat, oats or white corn, fed either alone or in combination with each other, the yolks were so light colored that the eggs would be quite unsuitable for fancy trade. When the grain supply consisted entirely of white corn the yolks were very light colored, while, on the other hand, the feeding of yellow corn imparted to the yolks that rich yellow color which is so desirable.

Clearance Sale
1/3 off ON ALL STRAW HATS
ANY STRAW HAT IN THE HOUSE.
25 Per Cent Discount
On all Misses and Childrens Oxfords and Sandals. We mark all goods in plain figures. You can figure the discount yourself.
Reduced Prices
On Men and Women's Oxford Ties in New and Desirable Goods.
THE KING 60.
Where Gash Wins.

B-4
Opening our Mid-Summer "Mill Remnant Sale" which will be in a few weeks, we will now offer some Special values, beginning July 15, '04

A Woman Never Gets
Quite as many shirt waists as she wants, but when the price, style and quality is considered, our sale must be very attractive—these sold for .98, $1.29, $1.50, but now 75 cents.
for your choice. Beginning Friday, July 15.

No Disgrace to Be poor, but often very annoying—nor is it an uncommon thing to see a cleanly housewife attired in a nice white apron bought in this sale at 19c cents.
Begins Friday, July 15.

Some Eat To live while others apparently live to eat and others to wear good clothes. Any man will be more than pleased to know we will sell these pleated bosom, fancy white shirts at 50 cents
(75c value)

Mrs. Fly Has Not failed to look in upon you in the past month, and as the weather gets warmer Mrs. Fly will get nearer unless you get doors and windows to keep her out. For this sale you can have the best doors in our store for only $1.00.
(worth $1.50.)

A New Broom Sweeps
clean and you can have the best and cleanest carpet brooms you ever saw for 19c, 22c, 25c, 30c
Toys and whisk brooms, 9c.

A Snow Storm In
summer would surprise us indeed, and you may wonder at these low prices, but the facts remain the same. Crepe paper, 5c. Linen crash, four yards for 25c. White metal table spoons, 18c set. White metal tea spoons, 9c set. Apron—gingham, (limited) 5c. Galvanized tubs, 45c.

BEGINNING JULY 15, 1904.
Long's 31 South Park Place

Big Cut Price Sale
ON ALL
Low Cut Footwear
1/4 OFF ON ALL MEN'S, WOMEN'S, 1/4
AND CHILDREN'S OXFORDS AND SANDALS
Wise & Hammond
40 North Third Street.

Behind Her Fan
She smiles—her teeth are unsightly—gums diseased—breath impure. She neglected her own teeth and SHE suffers pain and mortification. Attend to yours carefully and you avoid this.
GEO. H. WOODS, D. D. S.
No. 22 1-2 S. Second St. So. of P. O.

Olds & Ends

Find no Resting Place In Our Store.

Everything of This Kind Goes at a Price

Men's $15.00 and $16.50
suits. Sale price $10.00

Men and Boy's $10 to $12
suits. Sale price $7.50

Men and Boy's $7.50 to $10
suits. Sale price $5.00

See Window Display
Geo.

Hermann
No. 5 W. Side Square

CHILDREN'S PICNIC

--AT--

Idlewild Park Saturday

Admittance Free to all Children.

Special Matinee at 2:15
Admission 5 and 10 cents.

Bring your basket and stay all day.

It has stood the test of time and does the work thoroughly and easily, as thousands will testify.

HALL'S PAINLESS CORN CURE

It is easy to apply, the first application relieves the pain and it is sold on a GUARANTEE. Price 25c at HALL'S DRUG STORE.

Hall's Tooth Powder
Whitens and preserves the teeth,
hardens the gums and sweetens
the breath, 25c.

HALL'S OINTMENT for itching piles or any itching of the skin, 25c.

Hall's Headache Powders
Are quick to relieve headache and neuralgia, 10c.

VINOL is the Greatest of Tonics.
Try it for that tired, run-down feeling. It makes the weak strong.

D. D. D. is the best remedy for eczema and skin eruptions.
RUBEL & ALLEGRETTI'S, LOWNEYS,

GUNTHERS
CHOCOLATE CREAMS.
Always fresh and good at

HALL'S DRUG STORE
10 North Side Square.

JOSEPH RENZ,
NOTARY PUBLIC, REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE.
Office at the Court House.
Deeds and mortgages written. All business entrusted to me will be promptly and carefully attended to.

STATE FAIR

Begins at Columbus Aug. 29, Contin-ing Five (Full) Days—Cost Small, Benefit Large.

The State Fair and Industrial Exposition to be held at Columbus, five full days, August 29, 30, 31, and September 1 and 2, 1904, is called to the attention of the people, as the mecca of interest and enterprise toward which travel
will be directed on the days named.

This now important Ohio institution is the culmination of years of effort, and the expenditure of large sums of money, in moulding grounds
into a beautiful and inviting park resort, and the erection thereon of a class of fine, large Exposition buildings, imposing in appearance and complete in every detail of arrangement for displaying the results of art and education, and the products of science,
skill and industry, in Fifteen Great Departments, where the exhibits made-
are classified and arranged in divisions
for intelligent comparison and inspection by the general public who attend
the Fair.

The exhibits in the many buildings
will be supplemented by acres of operative exhibits on the open grounds;
by rare feature attractions and by high class amusements, to make the general occasion the more interesting and enjoyable.

Make your arrangements to attend
the fair. The cost is small, the benefits large, the enjoyment all that could be wished.

AUCTION SALE.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at Hurlbush Transfer barn, South Third street, one lot of household goods, consisting of bedroom suits, rockers, dining chairs, carpets, stoves etc. These goods are all clean and in first-class condition. Col. W. C. Seward auctioneer. 14-d2t

BICYCLE NEWS

Newark now has a live bicycle organization officered by men with up-to-date ideas. It was formed June 1st under the name of the Newark Cycle Trade Association. In spite of its name it is not strictly a trade organization as its object will be the providing of attractive outings for riders
and to work up interest in cycling.
The amusement committee will arrange and handle all runs and races.
The first half day pleasure will be a monster bicycle parade and race meet at Idlewild Park July 22 on Eagle day. In order to get together as many of riders as possible the association has decided to offer a bicycle free as a prize for riding in the parade. The arrangement is rather novel and can not help but draw a large crowd. Every bicycle rider in the city, man, woman or child, and a special invitation is extended the ladies, is invited to meet at the Kitzmiller fountain on the North Side of the Square at 12:30 p. m. and participate in a parade to Idlewild Park. A number will be given to each rider.
When the Park is reached duplicates of the numbers given the riders will be placed in a hat and the first number drawn will entitle the holder to a $25 Avalon bicycle free, providing the holder of the number is present and rode in the parade from the square to the park. If the holder of the first number is not present a second number will be drawn. This drawing will take place at 3:30 p. m., after the races in front of the grand stand. No member of the association will participate in the drawing as the duplicate numbers will be turned over to a disinterested party. In view of the fact that Newark has about 3,000 bicycle riders this liberal offer should bring out at least half that number and place Newark on record as a live cycling center. This will cost you nothing and we do not see how every rider in the city can help from taking part in this monster bicycle parade
and review.

The management of the park have agreed to admit all riders of bicycles for 5 cents, as the charge on regular days is 5 cents for rider and 5 cents for wheel, this should be another inducement for you to join the parade.
The wheel to be given to the holder of the lucky number is now on display in the window of A. L. Norton & Co., first window west of Powers-Miller window, who are kindly displaying the $500 worth of prizes for races.

Remember the date and tell your friends, July 22, Friday afternoon.

THE COURTS

FRANK HOFFER BRINGS SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Action Commenced Against Robert Scott and James Callan in Common Pleas Court—Transfer.

Frank C. Hoffer, by his attorneys, Kibler & Kibler, has commenced suit
in the Common Pleas court against Robert Scott and James Callan for $1,000 damages.

The plaintiff says that on July 2
the defendants arrested him and struck him on the head and arm, dragged him
over the streets of Newark, whereby he became and is lamed and sick, and has been disabled from attending to his business.

The second cause of action the plaintiff says that on July 2, the defendants assaulted and beat him, and confined him in a cell at the prison on a false charge that he was intoxicated, and detained him in the prison for seven hours, until he could procure bail for his appearance before the Mayor on the 5th of July, at which time he was found not guilty of the charge and was discharged, and the prosecution ended, whereby the plaintiff was greatly injured in his credit and was
and has hitherto been detained from his business, to his damage in $500.

Decision Reserved.

The case of Evans against Tussing
was concluded in 'Squire Atcherly's court on Wednesday and decision reserved.

Real Estate Transfers.

Victoria J. Warman to Thomas J.
Irwin, real estate in Newark township,
$100.

W. H. Anderson, Jr., Sheriff, to Clar-anda Belt, sheriff's deed for real estate in St. Louisville, $847.

Ignatius Siler and wife to Tacy A.
Fulk, part of lot 436 in Newark, $3,300.
Addie Walters and husband to P.
T. Jones, lot 5 in Kasson's addition to Jonhstown, $195.

Fred C. Evans and wife to Wm.
Fetty and wife, inlot 4538 in Newark,
$1,300.

Sarah Adkins to Charles V. Jones, real estate in Granville, $2,000.

The Newark Real Estate and Improvement Company to Walter J.
Powers lot 110 in the Newark Real Estate and Improvement Company's Idlewild Park addition to Newark, $100.

L. S. Chadwick, as executor of Celia Owens, deceased, to Louis D.
Beaumont and Daniel S. Beaumont, real estate in Licking township, $2,800.
Pinckney L. Horn and wife to Thos.
H. Edwards, real estate in Newark,
$200.

Marriage Licenses

Alonzo Spurgeon of Reynoldsburg, and Lulu Pearl Minor of Licking county.

James Lewis Johnson of Outville
and Emeline Margarets Spelman.

INJUNCTION

Temporarily Restraining the Traction Company From Interfering With Adell at Buckeye Lake.

Columbus, O., July 14.—According to the petition filed in Common Pleas court Tuesday by Bentley D. Adell, the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company is attempting to secure a monopoly of the business of carrying passengers on Buckeye Lake.
A temporary restraining order was allowed by Judge Evans restraining the traction company from interfering with Adell in the use of the pier at Buckeye Lake for loading and unloading passengers.

The plaintiff asserts that he leased
the privilege of running his launch on the lake and the use of the pier. He asserts that he procured this privilege from the traction company and paid them the amount stipulated in the contract. He claims that they are now attempting to prevent him using the pier and have caused his arrest for using it. He asks that they may be permanently enjoined from interfering with his business. The matter will come up before Judge Evans today.

A Wonderful Medicine.

If you read this paper you know about Drake's Palmetto Wine for the Stomach, Flatulency and Constipation. We continually praise it, as hundreds of our readers do. Any reader of this can have a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine
free, by sending a letter or postal card to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill.
One dose a day of this tonic, laxative Palmetto medicine gives immediate relief and often cures in a few days. Drake's Palmetto Wine is a wonder worker for Blood, Liver and Kidneys.
Seventy-five cents at Drug Stores for a large bottle, usual dollar size, but a trial bottle will be sent free and prepaid to every reader of this paper who writes for it.

FURNITURE MEN

Will Have an Outing at Buckeye Lake on Friday, July 22—Plans For the Gathering.

The furniture dealers of Columbus,
Zanesville and Newark are making great preparations for their big picnic
and outing to be held at Buckeye Lake on Friday, July 22. All the proprietors and employes of the Newark furniture stores and furniture factories with their families will attend the picnic. Mr. Walter Scott is the chairman and Mr. William C. Miller is the secretary of the Newark furniture men's organization. All the furniture stores and furniture factories in Newark will be closed on that day, and the proprietors, employes and their families will enjoy themselves to the utmost in picnic pleasures at the beautiful Licking county resort.

Mr. Ambrose Schaller, of the Newark Furniture company, has agreed to look after the wants of the inner man, which is a guarantee that everybody
will be satisfied.

The day will be spent in ball games,
boating, fishing, dancing and other pleasures, and in addition to the sports
a meeting of the furniture men will be held in conjunction with the picnic
and business ideas will be exchanged.
It will be a great outing and one that will be full of enjoyment to all who attend.

Sacred Band Concert at Buckeye
Lake Park, Sunday, July 17. 7-13:3t

RAILROAD NOTES.

Invent Automatic Pipe Coupler.

Two employes of the Delaware & Hudson railroad have just invented an automatic coupler for air brakes and steam pipes, that may bring an independent fortune to them. They are Brakeman George E. Kelle and Engineer Joel Arnold. After about two years' study and experimenting, they have completed their appliance, which is very simple and can be attached to any car. By its use, the air brake pipes, the steam heating pipes and the signal whistle are automatically coupled as the cars bump. The coupling of the pipes is regulated from the platform of the car by the same lever that governs the drawhead. Railroad officials have become interested in the device.

Will Protest Against Order.

The enforcement of an old order
by the officials of the Pennsylvania compelling all passenger trainmen to wear vests and keep their coats tightly buttoned, will shortly be resented
by the employes through the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. The protestants, who comprise conductors, brakeman and baggage masters, complain vigorously against being made to wear their complete uniforms tightly buttoned up during the hot weather and declare that the order is unreasonable and unjust.

Local Railway Briefs.

E. E. Nichols has been marked up as extra brakeman on the C. O. division.

Brakeman O. O. Mason has returned to work after having been off duty
for a few days.

Brakeman Miner has returned to work.

Brakemen W. E. White, A. W. Williams, J. A. Arnold, Karicofe have returned to work.

Brakeman S. A. Vandenberg has been marked up as extra brakeman on the C. O. division.

Brakeman J. E. Tollett is laying off for a few trips.

HUBBLE-UFFNER.

Miss Mattye May Hubble and Mr.
George Edgar Uffner were married yesterday at noon in the study of the Walnut Street Christian church, the Rev. Ira Boswell officiating. The wedding was a very quiet one and there were present only the close relatives and friends of the bride and groom. The bride wore a going away gown of blue velvet ornamented with Persian embroidery and a hat of blue straw. She carried white carnations and sweet peas in a shower bouquet.
Mr. and Mrs. Uffner left immediately after the ceremony for a Western trip. The bride is a well-known and popular young lady of this city, the daughter of Mr. J. T. Hubble and the sister of Miss Ruby Hubble. Mr. Uffner is with the Armour Packing company and is located at Chattanooga.
Chattanooga Press.

Free turtle soup at Max Nagele's place, 107 South Sixth street, every Saturday night. 6-24dt

BEAUTIFUL HANDS.

How a Woman May Obtain Them and Keep Them.

There used to be a saying that by the appearance of the hands one could tell whether a woman was a lady or not.
There is a good deal in that.
No woman who is willing to do certain simple things need have rough or red hands. In the first place, lots of people make the mistake of washing their hands too often. Only do it when it is really necessary, and then don't half wash them. Half washing the hands and omitting to rinse out the soap makes them coarse and dirt grain-

RUB IN A LITTLE COLD CREAM.

If the hands are stained, a little olive oil rubbed into the skin will loosen
the dirt and make the hands soft.

Dry the hands until not a particle of dampness remains. Press back the cuticle around the nails when drying them.

Occasionally before retiring rub in a little cold cream when you notice the hands are getting dry, but it is throwing it away to apply it to a dry skin.
Soak your hands first in warm water,
then, without drying, apply any skin
food you may want to use.

Moist and clammy hands may be dusted with oatmeal after washing.

Nails filed twice a week never need cutting. Cutting is rather apt to make them split. However, if you have an aversion to filing, soak the nails for about five minutes in hot water and use the file merely to round off the corners.

There is no better hand beautifier than lemon juice. Strain and bottle it and it will keep for weeks. It may be rubbed into the skin as often as you like. It whitens and softens it and takes away stains.

Above all, don't wear rings that are too small or gloves that fasten too tightly around the wrist. They impede the circulation and spoil the appearance of the prettiest hand. If your hands are large, avoid white gloves as much as possible and especially gloves
stitched in a different color.

Some people buy expensive powders and polishers for the nails. Try rubbing them against the palm of the other hand. It gives them a very good polish.
HELEN CLIFTON.

COLONIAL EFFECTS.

A Favorite Style of Decoration For Country Homes.

The colonial style of interior decoration lends itself to small incomes and can be easily carried out by the woman of taste. Something, of course, depends on the woodwork, as this is apt to be one of the important features of the room.

The picture shows a living room the walls of which are done in paneled

GREEN AND WHITE COLOR SCHEME

whitewood. The carpet is green and quant green covered furniture shows attractively against the whiteness. Besides the old fashioned chairs there is an old fashioned piano.
The frieze is of green and bluish tones, and the quaintly molded ceiling adds to the charm of the room. The pictures are also of the antique description framed in dull gilt.
R. DE LA BAUME.

Sound Advice.

Listen to what Leonard Kink says.
"If you cannot do what you would like to, do what you can and be a good time doing it. There is a greater good time in making your own good time than in having somebody else make it for you. The first is victory; the last is surrender."

Sudden Death!

Are YOU feeling death today? Is the old "disease" of disease at work in your blood, sapping your vitality, unloading your system and leaving you weak and weary to the grave?
The blood! Oh, there's where it's all at! It's the blood that's the trouble. Your Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Heart—all the vital organs—depend for health on the condition of the blood.

Vitona

"The New Way to Health."

purifies the blood, driving out the germs of disease, and its rapid action restores perfect health to every part of the body. Vitona cures Rheumatism, Indigestion, Constipation, Blood Poison, Bright's Disease, Dropsy, Nervous Exhaustion, Liver Troubles—every disorder of any kind that can be traced to the blood. It's the only blood purifier that's safe, sure, and quick. It's the only blood purifier that's new, and it's the only blood purifier that's giving thousands from hopeless sickness and death.

THE VITONA COMPANY, Coshocton, Ohio

FOR SALE BY

J.W. COLLINS & SON, No. 37 North Third St.

DON'T MISS MAYBOLD'S CASH DISCOUNT SALE OF SHOES

Beginning July 11 and Ending July 25 we Will Give a Special Reduction of 10 per cent Throughout our Entire Stock

We Have Some Broken Lots of Extra Value.

100 Pair Ladies fine shoes, E.P. Reed Co $1.00
120 Pair Ladies Heavy shoes 90c
50 Pair Ladies patent and dong. colonial slippers 90c
72 Pair Ladies Dong. Oxfords 68c
39 Pair Ladies button shoes 68c
250 Pair Men's and Boy's fine and heavy shoes 90c
37 Pair Misses' Dongola shoes 73c

Maybold's One Price Shoe House

A Sound Eye is Good to Have

Is your eye all right?
Isn't it time to be sure?
Isn't it wise to be sure?
Isn't it right to come?

We'll examine it, tell you what it needs and give you comfort. Our price and our service will be right.

Haynes Bros.
North Park Place.

Hold Up

"Your money or your life"—one is lost, the other endangered
when you drink impure beer. Drink

CONSUMERS PURE BEER

Open a couple of bottles when your next long-lost friend steps in.
It will add a final touch of perfection to the banality of the occasion.

We brew it and bottle it ourselves. We watch every process.
We age it properly. We use every precaution to make it and keep it pure and healthful.

We know it's just the best beer brewed.

Order Some Right Now.

Consumers Brewing Co. Newark, O.

—TRY THE—

Advocate Want Ads

They Bring Quick Results.

Idlewild Park
Casino.
Week of July 10
The Electric
Comedy Four
Twenty Minutes of Songs
And Jokes
Weston & Raymond
In a Comedy of Errors.
The Three Evans Sisters
Introducing Their Latest novelty
The Boston Children.
The Two Pattens
The Musical Fun Makers
Lottie Wert Symonds
The Irish Countess.
Prices 10 and 15 Cts. Boxes 25c
Seats on sale at the Wiles-Erman Drugstore.

You Workingmen
Who Create
the world's wealth through the sacrifice of your own lives—Have you ever considered that your life was worth saving?
In these hot summer months, when the heat almost overcomes you, you drink water—ice water—anything to keep cool—
How do you feel when fall comes?
Lifeless, listless, no energy, no ambition—just floating, just living.
Do you know what CLARO
will do? Claro will tone up your stomach, give you an appetite, steady
your nerves, regulate your bowels and,
by building up your whole system
make life worth living—for you really LIVE after using Claro.
Isn't it worth while trying?
Every bottle guaranteed.
ASK YOUR DRUGGIST.
COLLINS & SON,
Newark, Ohio.

SPEND YOUR VACATION
ON THE GREAT LAKES
DETROIT
CLEVELAND
MACKINAC ISLAND
MICHIGAN SUMMER RESORTS.
The LAKE AND RAIL ROUTE TO
WORLD'S FAIR, ST. LOUIS TIME TABLE Between
Detroit and Cleveland
Leave DETROIT, daily 10.30 p. m.
Arrive CLEVELAND, 5.30 a. m. making connections with all railroads
for points East.
Leave CLEVELAND, daily 10.15 p. m.
Arrive DETROIT 5.30 a. m.
Connecting with Special Trains for World's Fair, St. Louis, and with D. & C. Steamers for Waukegan, "Soo," Marquette, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Petoskey, Milwaukee, Chicago and Georgian Bay, also with all railroads for points in Michigan and the West.
Day Trips between Detroit and Cleveland during July and August.
Mackinac Division
Lv. TOLEDO Mondays and Saturdays 9.30
a. m. and Tuesdays and Thursdays 4 p. m.
Lv. DETROIT Mondays and Saturdays 5.00
p. m. and Wednesdays and Fridays 9.30
a. m. (Commencing June 14th.)
Send 2c for Illustrated Pamphlet Tourist Rates
Send 2c for World's Fair Pamphlet.
A. A. SCHWARTZ, G. S. & P. T. M., Detroit, Mich.

THE FARM HORSE.
In the Average Horse of the Central West Too Light For Farm Labor?
Three years in succession the farmers of the corn belt have passed through unusual difficulties in putting in their crops, this being due to heavy precipi-tations during the seeding and planting months. In at least three ways this has operated against the interests of farmers. In the first place, on account of the soil being wet the seeding of crops
has been delayed; in the second place,
on account of the wetness of the soil tillage operations have been carried on with extreme difficulty, while lastly the season for sowing and planting has been so short as to draw upon the man and horse forces for labor to an extent that could scarcely be supplied.
These unusual conditions have taught us that the average farm horse of the central west is not heavy enough for the work that he is called upon to perform.
We are well aware of the fact that many men are strong advocates of the 1,200 or 1,300 pound horse, claiming that such an animal for all round utility on the farm will give more satisfactory service than one that is heavier.
While we admit that there are cases where the 1,200 or 1,300 pound horse
is a very handy animal, yet in our opinion it would add much to the wealth of the corn belt if the average horse weighed 1,400 or 1,500 pounds and combined with this weight his present quality.
We will go further and say that there is an important place for the 1,600 and 1,700 pound horse to be used in farm work. Who among our light horse advocates has not wished for a little more weight many times in the spring? We have in mind a few individuals whose horses weigh on an average about 1,500 pounds, and these passed through the spring work with a much greater degree of ease than the 1,200 pound animals.
We talk about our lighter horse being useful when we put him on the road, but in the corn belt if we compare the amount of roading that is to be done with the abundance of labor on the farm we will find that the former is insignificant compared with the latter and that we should equip ourselves with horses suited to farm labor and allow the road work to be a matter of secondary consideration.
We realize that there will be many among our readers who still hold their opinion that the 1,200 pound horse is more useful, but we venture to assert that these individuals are not putting the plows down and doing the good work with the disks and harrows that their neighbors are who own and operate heavier horses. It is true that something depends upon the character of a soil, but as much of the soil in the corn belt is comparatively close in texture and works with a degree of difficulty we believe that we are entirely within the lines of safety when we strongly advocate breeding up for use on the farm equines of greater size.
Instead of breeding the farm mare
to a road horse in order to raise workers it will be much more profitable in the long run to breed to stallions belonging to some of our heavier breeds.
The offspring in this case will not only be much more valuable if placed on the market, but will be of greater utility if kept on the farm. If you have never made any comparison please note the difference between four 1,200 pound horses when hitched on a disk and the same number of 1,500 pounders. In the case of the lighter team you will find the driver adjusting his lever so that the disk will not "bite" quite so hard, while in the case of the heavy team there is no need of any such adjustment. It follows that the seed bed in the latter case will be prepared in a much better manner than in the former.—Iowa Homestead.

In the Medicinal Garden.
The world's fair has a strip of land 150 feet by 40 feet wide devoted to medicinal and drug plants. The plants are labeled to show the scientific and the common names, the parts used in medicines and their properties. The grass family occupies the first position
in the field and includes in this exhibit
the most valuable member and one of the most worthless from the farmer's standpoint—namely, corn and couch grass, the cornstarch and silk furnished by the former being used in medicine, and the running rootstock of the latter, a source of much trouble to the farmer, also possessing medicinal properties.
Golden seal, a native plant for the root of which a great demand exists and which brings a good price, will also be found here as well as another plant which has caused a flurry in the market on account of short supply—namely, the Cascara sagrada tree, the bark of which is employed medicinally.
One Thing and Another.
An important grass for hay in the west and one especially resistant to drought is the wheat grass (Agropyron occidentale). This spreads by extensively creeping underground stems.
The foliage is stiff and harsh, but nevertheless it forms a very nutritious hay.
One of the so called "hog tamer" devices for preventing pigs from rooting is pronounced by T. F. McConnell of Arizona "entirely successful and much to be preferred to the hog ring." Summer was grown last season at all the experimental farms of Canada,
with yields varying from seventeen bushels and twenty pounds to forty-three bushels and forty-four pounds per acre.
The secret of success in cattle raising, according to an Illinois cattiman,
is plenty of pasture more than you need, so you won't pasture it to death in July and August.

ANECDOTES OF PARKER
Early Ambition of the Democratic Nominee For President.
A STIRRING INCIDENT OF HIS LIFE
How the Judge Quelled a Pauc in a Bank—Experience With a Photographer Who Interrupted His Morning Dive in the Hudson—Why He Refused a Prominent Office.
The ambition of Judge Alton Brooks
Parker, chief judge of the New York court of appeals and the Democratic nominee for president of the United States, to become a lawyer was early formed and came about in an interesting way, says the New York Times.
His father was summoned for jury service in a case which was to be tried at Cortland, N. Y. He brought young Alton to court with him. The case was of some importance, and one of the parties to it had employed the services of a Syracuse lawyer of some distinction
as a pleader. This lawyer's address made such an impression on young Parker that when he and his father were driving back to the farm he informed his parent that he intended to become a lawyer when he grew up. Once having formed that purpose he began to bend all his efforts toward its accomplishment. To get the money necessary to attend a law school the young man decided to take up teaching upon
the completion of his academic course.
In connection with this stage of his career he himself relates an incident which is eloquently suggestive of the sturdy honesty of his ancestry.
On the Friday afternoon on which he received his certificate from the Cortland academy he hired a horse at the village livery stable and started out, unknown to his father, in search of employment. After a thirteen mile drive and several disappointments he was engaged by the trustees of Virgil township school. His father, too, had lost no time in looking out for his son's interests, and at the same time that the young man was on his quest in search of employment the father had secured him an engagement which,
from a pecuniary standpoint, was more attractive than that which the young man had concluded for himself.
When the young man returned home
late at night and related to his father
with some pride the result of his mission, his father, instead of sharing in his elation, expressed his regret, explaining that he had secured for him
the promise of a much better place than that at Virgil. Young Parker, much crestfallen, proposed that he return to Virgil the next morning and cancel his engagement.
"No," said his father; "you have made it and you must keep it. I have observed that when a young man once fails in that way he is pretty apt to fail
all through life."
There were some boys at the Virgil school who were larger than their sixteen-year-old teacher, and he found it difficult to maintain discipline. One day when he had corrected the bully of the school that individual not only resented the correction, but showed fight. One blow from young Parker's first sent him sprawling to the floor.
After that the young teacher had no difficulty in commanding obedience
from his pupils.
That Judge Parker is a man of action and a doer as well as a student and man of meditation was well evidenced in a matter which is a part of the history of the city of Kingston, N. Y., says the Brooklyn Ec-clesiast. One September day, in 1891, the Ulster County Savings bank, of which he was a trustee, closed its doors suddenly because of embezzlements on the part of the treasurer and assistant treasurer, which could no longer be concealed. It was a bank which had deposits of $2,500,000 and the embezzlement amounted to $100,000, wiping out the supposed surplus and making a deficiency. The bank had invested about $1,500,000 in real estate mortgages, one-half of which were on the farms in Ulster county. To wind up the business of the bank, by appointing a temporary receiver, and distribute the assets pro rata—the ordinary way—
would be to foreclose these mortgages, throw many on the market, reduce their values and ruin the farmers and inflict further loss on the depositors.
At the time Judge Parker was at his farm at Accord, but hearing of the disaster he hurried to an investigation.
There were other trustees, among them
General George H. Sharpe, but Judge Parker, in his masterfulness, became the only one. His first act was to lodge the assistant treasurer in jail that night, his next a prompt effort to induce a strong fiduciary institution to take an assignment of the mortgages
with a local bank as discount agent.
But that failed. No institution was willing. Then he showed his resources and his inventive powers. He asked the equity court, in the place of appointing a temporary receiver, to name
twenty-five prominent citizens as trustees. It was a new idea and it commended itself to Charles M. Preston, who was at the time state superintendent of banks and a resident of Kingston. The judge pleaded with the leading men of Kingston, merchants, bank presidents, etc., and secured twenty-five who had the confidence of the community to take the burden on their shoulders. The supreme court, Furman judge, made a decree that put the plan in operation and enjoined the de-positors from drawing out more than 25 per cent of their deposits.
Then somebody thought he saw an opportunity to play politics, and a newspaper of the town advised the de-positors to draw out their 25 per cent
at once, assuring them it would be all

they would get. The next morning
early there was a frantic crowd at the doors. A "run" was on, and it meant ruin. But Judge Parker had anticipated
the malicious efforts of the mischief makers. He was there with a bag of money he obtained in New York
for the purpose. Leaping on the treasurer's desk, he called out: "Come in!
We are ready to pay! Do you think
we would waste our time on a broken
bank?" And the panic was at an end.
Only 11 per cent of the depositors demanded their money. The savings bank was saved. The court of appeals
sustained the plan, and the treasurer
and assistant treasurer were sent to the state prison. Then everybody wanted Judge Parker as president of the bank. He accepted the position on the consideration that no salary should
be given for his services, and he remained its president until it was again
on a sound basis and its deposits several hundred thousand greater than
they had ever been.
For the six summers during which
Judge Parker has lived at Esopus, N.
Y., he has been in the habit of rising
early and going down the bluff to the Hudson clad in bathing trunks. Before breakfast he would swim long enough to wake him up and give him
an appetite, says the New York World.
As the judge was about to dive off
the little pier the other morning he saw
a photographer with a camera aimed
at him. It was the first time that this side of political life had been brought
so closely home to him.
"You aren't going to photograph me
like this?" he asked.
"Those are my instructions," answered the photographer. "My paper
heard you took a morning swim and
they want a photograph of you doing it."
Judge Parker was good humoredly
amused. He has cheerfully acceded to
the requests to be photographed and
has sat good naturedly on his porch for
the purpose, but the early morning
snapshot did not appeal to him, and if
the photographers will not let him
swim in the river in peace he will swim
hereafter in a porcelain tub.
Judge Parker, wrote M. G. Cunneiff
in the World's Work, had a bright political future when he took a seat on the bench in 1885. There were few
Democrats who did not know him then.
Five years before, in the first years of
his service as surrogate, he had attended the national convention which nominated Hancock for president.
A year before he had been a delegate to the national convention of 1884
and had voted for the nomination of Cleveland. Less than a year before President Cleveland had called him to Washington to offer him the office of first assistant postmaster general. Surrogate Parker of Ulster county, N. Y., courteously declined the place. As he
and President Cleveland were discussing the matter Postmaster General Vil-
las, whose candidate for first assistant's office was Adlai E. Stevenson, entered the room.
"Parker says he does not want the place, Colonel Vilas," said President
Cleveland.
Colonel Vilas looked at the erect
young man and said:
"May I inquire why, Mr. Parker?"
"I cannot afford to give up a $5,000 a year position," said Surrogate Parker,
"to take a $3,000 position."
"But I gave you a $10,000 practice,"
said Colonel Vilas, "to take an $8,000
position."
"Well, Colonel Vilas," said Surrogate
Parker, "if I had been making $10,000
a year for ten or twelve years, I, too,
might afford to accept the president's
offer."
So in the fall of 1885 the young man
of thirty-three, who had declined the
position of first assistant postmaster
general and had led the Democratic party of New York to victory, was widely known as a man on the threshold of political success.
Senator David B. Hill, Governor Odell
of New York, who is a relative, and Judge Parker were waiting for a train
at Esopus, N. Y., the other day, says
the Brooklyn Citizen. The old flagman
called to the judge:
"Say, judge, them same pair o' robins
is come back."
The judge turned, left his distinguished visitors, took the old man's
arm and walked down the track to examine the newly made nest of the
feathered summer boarders, spending
fifteen minutes in the task.
"An' he's always like that," said the old man. "Thinks jest as much o' me
as he does of the governor. Anybody
here again him? Waal, yes. There's Abe, the town drunkard. We eal-kater to worry erlong without him,
though."
Judge Parker was showing a friend
around his place at Esopus, on the Hudson, last fall, and after pointing
out the trees on the big place that he loved so well and the magnificent view
of the river he pointed across the lawn
to the fields where corn and wheat
were being harvested, says the New York Times.
"That is my weakness," he said. "I love the farm and farm life more
and more as I grow older. I take a pride
in the fact that my corn commands as
good and in many cases a better price
than any along this valley. My wheat,
too, is in splendid condition this fall,
and we will get a better yield per acre
than we did last year."
"Would you rather be a farmer than
judge?" he was asked.
The judge paused a moment, and
then a mischievous smile broke over
his ruddy face and crinkled behind his
red mustaches as he replied:
"I guess I have been times when I
have been mighty glad that my income as a farmer has been eked out
with my salary as judge."

THEY WOULD GET. The next morning
early there was a frantic crowd at the doors. A "run" was on, and it meant
ruin. But Judge Parker had anticipated
the malicious efforts of the mis-
chief makers. He was there with a bag of money he obtained in New York
for the purpose. Leaping on the treasurer's desk, he called out: "Come in!
We are ready to pay! Do you think
we would waste our time on a broken
bank?" And the panic was at an end.
Only 11 per cent of the depositors demanded their money. The savings
bank was saved. The court of appeals
sustained the plan, and the treasurer
and assistant treasurer were sent to
the state prison. Then everybody
wanted Judge Parker as president of
the bank. He accepted the position on
the consideration that no salary should
be given for his services, and he remained its president until it was again
on a sound basis and its deposits several hundred thousand greater than
they had ever been.
For the six summers during which
Judge Parker has lived at Esopus, N.
Y., he has been in the habit of rising
early and going down the bluff to the Hudson clad in bathing trunks. Before breakfast he would swim long
enough to wake him up and give him
an appetite, says the New York World.
As the judge was about to dive off
the little pier the other morning he saw
a photographer with a camera aimed
at him. It was the first time that this side of political life had been brought
so closely home to him.
"You aren't going to photograph me
like this?" he asked.
"Those are my instructions," answered the photographer. "My paper
heard you took a morning swim and
they want a photograph of you doing it."
Judge Parker was good humoredly
amused. He has cheerfully acceded to
the requests to be photographed and
has sat good naturedly on his porch for
the purpose, but the early morning
snapshot did not appeal to him, and if
the photographers will not let him
swim in the river in peace he will swim
hereafter in a porcelain tub.
Judge Parker, wrote M. G. Cunneiff
in the World's Work, had a bright political future when he took a seat on
the bench in 1885. There were few
Democrats who did not know him then.
Five years before, in the first years of
his service as surrogate, he had attended the national convention which nominated Hancock for president.
A year before he had been a dele-
gate to the national convention of 1884
and had voted for the nomination of Cleveland. Less than a year before President Cleveland had called him to Washington to offer him the office of
first assistant postmaster general. Surrogate Parker of Ulster county, N. Y., courteously declined the place. As he
and President Cleveland were discuss-
ing the matter Postmaster General Vil-
las, whose candidate for first assist-
ant's office was Adlai E. Stevenson, entered the room.
"Parker says he does not want the
place, Colonel Vilas," said President
Cleveland.
Colonel Vilas looked at the erect
young man and said:
"May I inquire why, Mr. Parker?"
"I cannot afford to give up a $5,000 a
year position," said Surrogate Parker,
"to take a $3,000 position."
"But I gave you a $10,000 practice,"
said Colonel Vilas, "to take an $8,000
position."
"Well, Colonel Vilas," said Surrogate
Parker, "if I had been making $10,000
a year for ten or twelve years, I, too,
might afford to accept the president's
offer."
So in the fall of 1885 the young man
of thirty-three, who had declined the
position of first assistant postmaster
general and had led the Democratic
party of New York to victory, was
widely known as a man on the thresh-
old of political success.
Senator David B. Hill, Governor Odell
of New York, who is a relative, and
Judge Parker were waiting for a train
at Esopus, N. Y., the other day, says
the Brooklyn Citizen. The old flagman
called to the judge:
"Say, judge, them same pair o' robins
is come back."
The judge turned, left his distinguished visitors, took the old man's
arm and walked down the track to examine the newly made nest of the
feathered summer boarders, spending
fifteen minutes in the task.
"An' he's always like that," said the
old man. "Thinks jest as much o' me
as he does of the governor. Anybody
here again him? Waal, yes. There's Abe, the town drunkard. We eal-
kater to worry erlong without him,
though."
Judge Parker was showing a friend
around his place at Esopus, on the Hudson, last fall, and after pointing
out the trees on the big place that he
loved so well and the magnificent view
of the river he pointed across the lawn
to the fields where corn and wheat
were being harvested, says the New York Times.
"That is my weakness," he said. "I
love the farm and farm life more
and more as I grow older. I take a pride
in the fact that my corn commands as
good and in many cases a better price
than any along this valley. My wheat,
too, is in splendid condition this fall,
and we will get a better yield per acre
than we did last year."
"Would you rather be a farmer than
judge?" he was asked.
The judge paused a moment, and
then a mischievous smile broke over
his ruddy face and crinkled behind his
red mustaches as he replied:
"I guess I have been times when I
have been mighty glad that my in-
come as a farmer has been eked out
with my salary as judge."

THEY WOULD GET. The next morning
early there was a frantic crowd at the doors. A "run" was on, and it meant
ruin. But Judge Parker had anticipated
the malicious efforts of the mis-
chief makers. He was there with a bag of money he obtained in New York
for the purpose. Leaping on the treasurer's desk, he called out: "Come in!
We are ready to pay! Do you think
we would waste our time on a broken
bank?" And the panic was at an end.
Only 11 per cent of the depositors demanded their money. The savings
bank was saved. The court of appeals
sustained the plan, and the treasurer
and assistant treasurer were sent to
the state prison. Then everybody
wanted Judge Parker as president of
the bank. He accepted the position on
the consideration that no salary should
be given for his services, and he remained its president until it was again
on a sound basis and its deposits several hundred thousand greater than
they had ever been.
For the six summers during which
Judge Parker has lived at Esopus, N.
Y., he has been in the habit of rising
early and going down the bluff to the Hudson clad in bathing trunks. Before breakfast he would swim long
enough to wake him up and give him
an appetite, says the New York World.
As the judge was about to dive off
the little pier the other morning he saw
a photographer with a camera aimed
at him. It was the first time that this side of political life had been brought
so closely home to him.
"You aren't going to photograph me
like this?" he asked.
"Those are my instructions," answered the photographer. "My paper
heard you took a morning swim and
they want a photograph of you doing it."
Judge Parker was good humoredly
amused. He has cheerfully acceded to
the requests to be photographed and
has sat good naturedly on his porch for
the purpose, but the early morning
snapshot did not appeal to him, and if
the photographers will not let him
swim in the river in peace he will swim
hereafter in a porcelain tub.
Judge Parker, wrote M. G. Cunneiff
in the World's Work, had a bright political future when he took a seat on
the bench in 1885. There were few
Democrats who did not know him then.
Five years before, in the first years of
his service as surrogate, he had attended the national convention which nominated Hancock for president.
A year before he had been a dele-
gate to the national convention of 1884
and had voted for the nomination of Cleveland. Less than a year before President Cleveland had called him to Washington to offer him the office of
first assistant postmaster general. Surrogate Parker of Ulster county, N. Y., courteously declined the place. As he
and President Cleveland were discuss-
ing the matter Postmaster General Vil-
las, whose candidate for first assist-
ant's office was Adlai E. Stevenson, entered the room.
"Parker says he does not want the
place, Colonel Vilas," said President
Cleveland.
Colonel Vilas looked at the erect
young man and said:
"May I inquire why, Mr. Parker?"
"I cannot afford to give up a $5,000 a
year position," said Surrogate Parker,
"to take a $3,000 position."
"But I gave you a $10,000 practice,"
said Colonel Vilas, "to take an $8,000
position."
"Well, Colonel Vilas," said Surrogate
Parker, "if I had been making $10,000
a year for ten or twelve years, I, too,
might afford to accept the president's
offer."
So in the fall of 1885 the young man
of thirty-three, who had declined the
position of first assistant postmaster
general and had led the Democratic
party of New York to victory, was
widely known as a man on the thresh-
old of political success.
Senator David B. Hill, Governor Odell
of New York, who is a relative, and
Judge Parker were waiting for a train
at Esopus, N. Y., the other day, says
the Brooklyn Citizen. The old flagman
called to the judge:
"Say, judge, them same pair o' robins
is come back."
The judge turned, left his distinguished visitors, took the old man's
arm and walked down the track to examine the newly made nest of the
feathered summer boarders, spending
fifteen minutes in the task.
"An' he's always like that," said the
old man. "Thinks jest as much o' me
as he does of the governor. Anybody
here again him? Waal, yes. There's Abe, the town drunkard. We eal-
kater to worry erlong without him,
though."
Judge Parker was showing a friend
around his place at Esopus, on the Hudson, last fall, and after pointing
out the trees on the big place that he
loved so well and the magnificent view
of the river he pointed across the lawn
to the fields where corn and wheat
were being harvested, says the New York Times.
"That is my weakness," he said. "I
love the farm and farm life more
and more as I grow older. I take a pride
in the fact that my corn commands as
good and in many cases a better price
than any along this valley. My wheat,
too, is in splendid condition this fall,
and we will get a better yield per acre
than we did last year."
"Would you rather be a farmer than
judge?" he was asked.
The judge paused a moment, and
then a mischievous smile broke over
his ruddy face and crinkled behind his
red mustaches as he replied:
"I guess I have been times when I
have been mighty glad that my in-
come as a farmer has been eked out
with my salary as judge."

TODAY'S MARKETS.
(P. G. Miller with Claude Meeker)

Wheat	Open'g	High	Low	Closing
July	96	97 1/2	95 1/2	96 1/4
September	87 3/4	88	86 5/8	87 5/8
December	84 3/4	85	83 3/4	84 3/4

Corn

July	49 1/2	49 1/2	48 3/4	49
Sept.	49 5/8	49 5/8	48 5/8	48 7/8
Dec.	45 3/8	45 1/2	44 3/8	45 1/8

Oats

July	30 1/2	30	29 1/8	29 1/8
Sept.	32 1/2	32 5/8	32 1/8	32 1/8
Dec.	33 3/8	33 1/2	32 7/8	32 7/8

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK.
Pittsburg, July 13.—Cattle: Supply light; market steady. Choice cattle
$5.10 @ 6.25; prime $5.65 @ 6.90; good $5.40 @ 5.70; tidy butchers $4.90 @
5.25; fair $4.40 @ 4.75; heifers $2.50 @ 4.50; cows, bulls and stags $2.4; fresh cows $2.5 @ 4.5.
Hogs: Supply light; market active;
heavy hogs $5.60; mediums $5.20;
Yorkers $5.60 @ 5.65; pigs $5.50 @ 5.60.
Sheep and Lambs: Supply light;
market 10 @ 20c higher; prime wet-
ters $1.50 @ 4.90; good mixed $4.05 @ 4.70; fair mixed $4 @ 4.40; clipped lambs $2 @ 5.50 spring lambs $4 @ 7;
calves $5 @ 7.50.
Pittsburg, July 14.—Today's cattle supply light, market steady; sheep and lambs, supply fair, active and higher; hogs ten double decks, active,
10 and 15c higher.
CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.
Chicago, July 13.—Cattle: Receipts
6,500; market steady. Good to prime steers $5.50 @ 6.40; poor to medium
$4.50 @ 5.60; stockers and feeders $2.50
@ 4; cows $1.50 @ 4.50; heifers $2 @
5.25; canners $1.50 @ 2.65; bulls $2.00
@ 4.25; calves $2.50 @ 5.55.
Hogs: Receipts 10,000—market steady. Mixed and butchers $5.20 @
5.40; good to choice heavy $5.25 @
5.40; rough, heavy $5.10 @ 5.25; light
$5.10 @ 5.50; bulk of sales $5.20 @ 5.30.
Sheep: Receipts 6,000; market for sheep and lambs slow. Good to choice wethers $4.40 @ 5.25; fair to choice
mixed $2.25 @ 4.25; native lambs $3.50 @ 7.00.
Chicago, July 14.—Today's cattle
2,000, market strong, 10c higher; hogs
4,000, 15 to 20c higher; sheep 2,000, lambs 25c higher.
Night Was Her Terror.
"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frantically and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Hall's drug store.

TO MARGARETTE DIRTH, Whose place of residence is on Sixth street, Newark, Ohio, Licking county, is hereby notified that on the 7th day of July, 1904, certain advertised property consisting of one lot of household goods viz., bed, bedding, chairs,
table and other articles, will be sold
at rooms of the undersigned at 54-58
South Third street, to pay and satisfy
the charges for storage therein.
Sale to commence at 9 o'clock a. m., July 16, 1904.
HURBAUGH TRANSFER CO.
Colza venom is said to be a powerful remedy for the plague.
EXCURSION NOTICES
In Full Blast—World's Fair! Newark to St. Louis Without Changing Cars Over Pennsylvania Lines.
All the marvelous sights of the St.
Louis World's Fair in full readiness.
Visitors now are finding hotel and boarding accommodations to excellent advantage. "The World's Fair Special" runs from Newark through to St.
Louis; leaves Newark 9:20 p. m. daily, arrives St. Louis 7:22 next morning.
No change of cars. Other through trains to St. Louis leave Newark 5:40
a. m., 9:05 a. m. and 12:40 a. m.
Full particulars about all trains,
special excursion fares and free books describing the Exposition and giving list of St. Louis hotels and boardings with rates may be had by communicating with J. L. Worth, Ticket Agent, Pennsylvania Lines, Newark.
Reduced Fares to Cincinnati—July 15th, 17th and 18th excursion tickets to Cincinnati, account Annual Meeting Grange Lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will be sold from all ticket stations on the Pennsylvania Lines. For full information regarding fares, time of trains, etc., call on Local Ticket Agent of those lines.
To St. Paul—July 13th to 17th inclusive, excursion tickets to St. Paul account Triennial Convention, Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association, will be sold from all ticket stations on the Pennsylvania Lines. For full information regarding fares, time of trains, etc., etc., apply to local ticket agents of those lines.

Reduced Fares to Franklin, Ohio—
July 14th to August 1st, inclusive, excursion tickets to Franklin (Warren County), Ohio account Meeting Miami Valley Chautauqua, will be sold via Pennsylvania Lines. For information regarding fares, etc., apply to local ticket agent of those lines.
Low Fares to the West—May 3, 17,
June 7, 21, July 5, 19, August 2, 16, Home-seekers' tickets, will be sold to points in the West, Northwest, South
and Southwest, and Canada and Mexico. For further information, apply to Ticket Agents of Pennsylvania Lines.
VACATION TRIP TO SEASHORE.
Low Fares to Famous Ocean Resorts
via Pennsylvania Lines.
Nothing can take the place of a vacation passed at the seashore. A special opportunity to enjoy twelve days' outing at the most attractive summer havens along the Atlantic Coast is offered by the Pennsylvania Lines Seashore Excursion, August 11th. Round trip fare $13.00 from Newark, O., to Atlantic City, Cape May, Holly Beach, Avalon, Anglesea, Wildwood, Sea Isle City,
Ocean City, New Jersey; Ocean City,
Maryland; Rehoboth, Delaware. Proportionately low fares from other Pennsylvania Lines stations.
The pleasure of the midsummer outing to these famous seaside resorts is enhanced by the opportunity to visit Philadelphia, where stop-over will be allowed on return coupon of Seashore excursion tickets. J. L. Worth, Ticket Agent, Pennsylvania Lines, Newark,
O., will furnish further information.
Low fares to California—August 15
to 27, inclusive, excursion tickets to San Francisco and Los Angeles, account Triennial Conclave Knights Templar, and Aug. 28 to Sept. 9 inclusive, account Sovereign Grand Lodge,
I. O. O. F., will be sold via Pennsylvania Lines. For full information regarding fares, routes, etc., apply to Local Ticket Agent of those lines, or to L. B. Freeman, District Passenger Agent at Columbus, O.
EXCURSION NOTICES.
BALTIMORE & OHIO.
Low Excursion Rates to St. Paul or Minneapolis, Minn.—July 13 to 17, inclusive, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets from all local stations west of Pittsburg, Pa., Wheeling and Parkersburg, W. Va., to St. Paul or Minneapolis, Minn., at rate of one fare plus 50 cents for the round trip, account Triennial Convention Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association. Tickets will be good for return until August 5, 1904,
but may be extended to September 15
by deposit with Joint Agent and payment of 50 cents.
Very Low Excursion Rates to Cincinnati, Ohio.—July 16, 17 and 18 the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad will sell excursion tickets from all local stations west of Pittsburg and Wheeling to Cincinnati, Ohio, at rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip, account Annual Meeting, B. P. O. Elks. Tickets will be good for

A Foreordained Partnership

By Curran Richard Greenley

Copyright, 1914, by T. C. McClure

It was all over, and General Marvin lay under the live oaks, while Miss Rebecca sat alone in the darkened parlor. Now the burden lay with her alone, and she followed wearily the trail of the years that had brought only trouble and loss.

Jessica stood still in the doorway at sight of the bowed head. She could find no words to say, but she drew Miss Rebecca's head down and held her close to her strong, young arms. Miss Rebecca lifted a hopeless face. "Child, I do not mourn for him. It is for you, Jessica, this old house and a pitiful ten acres is all that is left, and even that cannot be sold during my lifetime. There is nothing, nothing! Don't talk to me now. I cannot bear it. I must try to think." And Miss Rebecca crept away to her room.

Left to herself, the girl stood looking out toward the clump of live oaks that towered above the general's grave. She remembered that there had always been little economies practiced by Miss Rebecca, and the days when the general would shut himself in with a mass of papers—always after the visits of those men from town. Now the end had come. But the old home was still theirs, even though shorn of its broad acres, and an idea came to her. That night she wrote the letter that went in the northern mail, signed with the boyish scrawl of "J. L. Marvin."

Business was unusually dull in the office of Reppier Bros., florists, and the morning mail received instant attention. James Reppier tossed a letter across to his brother John. "Read that, John."

Reppier Bros. Gentlemen—Is there any market for cut flowers direct from the south—cane jasmine, English violets, roses and all varieties of the like? Can make arrangements for packing and shipping to arrive in good condition. I should be glad to receive orders. Respectfully,

J. L. MARVIN.

Aldana, Miss. John Reppier laid the letter down and looked up inquiringly. "Might be a good idea. What do you think?" "Well! We will be pretty apt to need a large supply in the next forty-eight hours, as that Garling funeral will call for more than we can furnish from our own plant."

Ten minutes later the message went off that electrified the household at Bois d'Arc.

Send all available blooms. Letter to follow. Terms guaranteed.

REPPER BROS.

Miss Rebecca was bewildered at the very idea of money to be gained from the profusion that rioted in hedge and arbor and over the waste of unkempt gardens, but Jessica rallied the idle negroes and worked all night until the dawn, when Uncle Reuben drove down to Aldana with a wagon load of baskets filled to the brim with fragrant merchandise.

Evening brought the letter that made possibility certainty, and busy days followed for Jessica. More land was leased and a little office constructed in the old weighing room of the gin that now served as a packing room. Miss Rebecca willingly let go the reins of Bois d'Arc into Jessica's hands. Once more Aunt Ailsa rejoiced in a well filled pantry, and bit by bit the old border was restored, excepting always the tall, soldierly figure that had moved out from among them forever.

November had come, and a soft haze lay over the sunny fields, and a tang of frost lurked in the breeze. Jessica lay in the hammock under the pines, her loosened hair blown back in a ruddy halo and the bars of sunlight flecking the smooth olive of her rounded cheek with golden light as she swayed back and forth, a picture that held the intruder silent until the crunching of the pine needles beneath his feet brought Jessica to herself. That he was very good to look at was patent at the first glance. The athletic figure, keen, dark eyes and smiling mouth made James Reppier an interesting study to the mind feminine.

"I beg pardon, but is this Bois d'Arc, the Marvin plantation?"

"Yes; this is Bois d'Arc. I am the manager."

"You? J. L. Marvin?" Reppier stared blankly. "But we had supposed—"

"That I was a man?" she broke in nervously, then, looking at the card that he handed her, "Mr. Reppier?" and a little later Reppier found himself in the dim old parlor receiving the gentle welcome of Miss Rebecca.

He was carried away with Bois d'Arc and its vague air of a better time that dimly expressed the actual assured position that had been his life motive. Self made from the days of drifting waifhood, when the two homeless boys had struggled against the current of the Chicago streets, it had been an uphill fight, with little time for the softer things of life, and here the stately rooms where the sunlight filtered through the small paned windows to fall on faces of dead and gone Marvins, the quaint wainscoted dining room, with its time stained treasures; the white table, with its glitter of silver and glass; the sweetness of flowers and the two gentlewomen so different from all the women that he had encountered in the rush of the city—he decided there and then to linger as long as he decently could, answering abstractedly to the running fire of bright nonsense that Jessica kept up.

He felt that somehow he had always known that soft voice and rippling laugh.

He followed her into the garden, where the moonlight gleamed over snowy masses of chrysanthemums that stood in tall ranks. A magic dwelt in the winding alleys of that old garden, walled in by the lush fragrance of roses. Desperately, helplessly, he went down before that small maiden who talked on of flowers and still of flowers and grew very impatient of his irrelevant replies. At last she ventured, "You expected to consult with 'Mr. Marvin' as to the business for the coming season?"

Reppier pulled himself together and came out of the clouds. He had forgotten his errand.

"Yes; I had a proposition to make from our firm. You have been our chief source of supply for several months, and we have decided to offer you an interest if you will agree to work under our supervision."

Jessica drew a long breath. Reppier went to his room that night in a state of mind that baffles description and lay for hours gazing out into the white night.

Morning—the plantation bell sent its summons far out into the misty grayness. Alas, the fields of Bois d'Arc had passed to alien hands, but the old bell still swung and lifted its voice, as it had done when in answer to its call the dusky file went forth from the gates to toil for the master of Bois d'Arc. Somewhere away off a chorus of hounds responded, and fields began to fill with the cotton pickers.

Jessica was seated behind the urn as he sat down to Aunt Ailsa's hot waffles and fried chicken. As he watched the small sunbrowned hands among the coffee cups the visions of the night came back in full force.

Reppier had no excuse for prolonging his stay, but before Jessica drove him down to Aldana he managed to extract an invitation for the holidays from Miss Rebecca. Reppier had touched her strangely with his half wistful remark, "Christmas is an empty word to me, I have never had a home."

Christmas eve, as Jessica came across the yard from the office, Reppier met her with such honest gladness in face and voice that she forgot her scruples and welcomed him as gladly. A long, happy week, for Jessica, her guard once down, threw herself into the spirit of the hour. Reppier found his crumpled rose leaf, however, in the person of Charlie Carlington, who was Jessica's shadow.

"Too confoundedly cousinly," thought Reppier as the swift days flew. He had never cared for dancing, but it was dull work to stand in the shadow while Jessica circled the room in Charlie's arms. But at last the round of dances and merry makings drew to a close. Reppier grew desperate. There was only one day left to him. If Miss Rebecca had earned his gratitude before she now had his undying affection in the hour when she pressed Charlie into service to drive her to the next plantation.

It was one of those dreary, midwinter afternoons, and the open fire flickered cheerily. Jessica commenced a furious onslaught with the poker. "Poking a fire is a positive stimulant on a day like this."

"Is it? Let me try it." He took the poker, and they knelt together on the broad hearth. A merry war of words and then a silence that neither of them dared to break. Jessica gazed deep into the heart of the fire, but Reppier's eyes were on the dark curls. He could not see her face. As he dropped the poker she stretched out her hand to find it caught and held—"Jessica!"

It was just a whisper, but the rich color went over her face, and the hand fluttered within the strong grasp that held it prisoner as he went on. "I know it is too soon, but I cannot go and leave my story untold. You know that I have loved you from the moment that I first saw you. I believe that I have loved you always. Above and beyond all law of caste, all difference of north and south, somewhere, somehow, you have belonged to me, and I want my own."

Outside the raindrops pattered against the long windows, then the neigh of a horse as Charlie and Miss Rebecca drove through the big gate. The brown head dropped lower, and the hand in his no longer struggled to escape. Quick to grasp his vantage ground, he drew the slight figure to him. For just the briefest time his lips sought hers; then, flushed and shy, Jessica retreated to the other end of the rug as Miss Rebecca, standing in the open door, read the end of the chapter.

One Way to Win a Wife.

James Barrie's "Admirable Crichton" has had a counterpart in real life. At least the resemblance is striking. He was a butler who for nearly twenty-five years cleverly managed the affairs of three Englishwomen, even to investing their money for them. Through all the years, although he knew how important he was to that little household, he never forgot that he was the butler and always preserved the most respectful attitude toward his mistresses. Suddenly, however, one morning he appeared before the women and "gave notice." He had saved up some money, he said, and wanted a home of his own. The household was appalled at the prospect. Finally one of the women gasped, "Have you met any suitable person?" "No, ma'am," answered the butler. "Not up to now. But I must make it my business to seek her." The three women felt the foundations of their domestic happiness tottering, and in desperation the most "suitable" of the trio asked the butler to marry her. After a pause he accepted her hand in his old respectful manner, and for twenty-five years longer, in the position of master, he stayed in the house where he had been for many years at service.

HONORED ABROAD.

Distinguished Attention Received by American Women in Germany.

What European nations think of American women in the wealthy social sphere all the world knows. In France, in England, in Germany and in Russia they are among the leaders of fashionable society. It has remained for the International Council of Women at Berlin to prove that the American advanced, serious minded woman is esteemed no less highly abroad than her rich sister who is in the social swim.

The welcome given to the council in Berlin, the distinguished honors paid to the straggling delegates under the eyes and nose of Emperor William in his own capital showed—well, what? This, that the new woman of Germany is wide awake and is throwing all her influence and strong, solid mental power on the side of liberty and progress.

FRAU MARIE STRITT OF DRESDEN.

ress for her sex; that, too, in a way that ought to shame some of her lukewarm American sisters.

The gracious, delightful reception to the international delegates was the result of months of hard work by the German National Council of Women. Its president is Frau Marie Stritt of Dresden. The general secretary of the international meeting was also a German woman, Dr. Elise Isenhausen. These ladies and their friends labored unceasingly to prepare the way for the meeting and make it the success it was. To their efforts was no doubt due the flattering reception accorded to the delegates in the city hall of Berlin, a reception at which Frau Kirschner, wife of the lord mayor, was chief hostess.

The chancellor of the German empire, Herr von Bulow, gave a reception in honor of the ladies. Rather surprising, too, was it that that same Herr Posadowsky-Wehner, German secretary of the interior, who lately put himself on record on the wrong side of the woman question, nevertheless held a levee for the international delegates. Gallant Chancellor von Bulow kissed the hand of Susan B. Anthony when she was presented to him.

What will probably linger in the memory of the American delegates as the pleasantest outside incident of all, however, is the audience granted by the empress of Germany, her majesty Augusta Victoria. It is not at all improbable that the empress of Germany would be a good advanced woman if she were not so overslaughed by her husband. As it was, though, Emperor William did not deign to give sign that he had ever heard of a woman's congress. His gentle, kindly wife received in the most cordial manner the twenty-one international ladies who visited her and gave them an hour and a half of her time. President May Wright Sewall declared afterward that the empress' manner was a "lesson in kindness and courtesy." Certainly it is a lesson needed by too many American women. We are sometimes brusque, even impolite, in manner, forgetting that politeness and kindly courtesy are due from each of us to every living creature.

The women of our country cannot feel otherwise than proud and gratified that at the Berlin gathering American women were the recipients of special honors. A notable event was that Sunday afternoon meeting conducted by Rev. Anna Shaw, Miss Anthony and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt. It was held in the English church at Berlin. I find an interesting and most respectful account of it in a German newspaper published in Dresden. In deference to German ideas the pastor of the English church did not call the gathering a divine service, but merely a meeting. The newspaper says that the church was packed to its utmost capacity by persons who wished to see "a woman in a pulpit," that sight being wholly new to Germany.

As usual, Miss Anthony was the lion of the occasion as she depicted "in her softly vibrant, expressive voice" scenes connected with her early battles for woman. It is not always that a reformer, at the end of half a century's struggle for a conviction, finds himself or herself thus honored. Miss Anthony told her audience of the rapidly increasing number of women engaging in gainful occupations in her own country. She told them further that it was a good thing for women to earn their own living, because it drew them away from themselves and made them a part of the human whole. Brave Susan!

Fitting it was that this meeting of representative women from all the world should close with a demonstration for universal peace and international arbitration. This will never be reached till the women of civilization bring it about.

WILHELMINA SCHIFF.

Movement Toward Church Union.

Never in the history of Protestantism has there been so much discussion of the question of church union as now. To show that the movement in this direction is gaining force and momentum, most of the eminent churchmen who discuss the subject favor the idea of the churches getting together. There is much difference of opinion as to the details of doing this, but the desirability of union is generally admitted. Public Opinion recently published a symposium on the question from some of the most noted divines in America. Dr. S. D. McConnell, one of the leading rectors of New York city, takes this decided position:

Diversity has never been the "glorious and glory of Protestantism," but its besetting fault and weakness. The great leaders of the Reformation were keenly alive to this danger, and the movement against the church and did their best to forestall against it. The life of Protestantism is not being "sacrificed to the new liberal movement." On the contrary, the continued existence of Protestantism is bound up in the fortunes of the movement. Protestantism has come to the end of the path along which it has been moving for three centuries. Unless it find, and find soon, a new and true appeal to make to the soul the religious life of the people will be found to be divided between the institutionalism of Rome and a reverent and ethically strenuous agnosticism.

Bishop Henry C. Potter employs what is dangerously akin to sarcasm in reference to some of those who oppose him. He says:

"Is the life of Protestantism being sacrificed to the new liberal movement? No, I should answer, not the life of Protestantism, but possibly the life of unifying many worthy persons who at present are reported as the ministers of diversity in religion, but who, if Protestantism, with its august and enlarging principles of liberty of worship and conscience, were maintained by minimizing needless divisions would be compelled to turn their attention to secular callings for their maintenance."

A former moderator of the Cumberland Presbyterian church offers this strong word:

It seems reasonable to believe that the consolidation of Protestant sects, together with the perpetuation of the spirit of Protestantism, would tend not to laxity of faith and practice, but rather to strengthen faith and to stimulate the practice of the fundamental Christian virtues, for there would remain no incentive to spend time and energy defending and propagating mere denominational peculiarities. But that time and energy could be more profitably spent in teaching the essentials of Christian truth and applying them to the development of Christian character.

Pan-American Railway.

The adage, "Go away from home to learn the news," is more than exemplified in some recent comments and statements of the Revue de Commerce Extérieur concerning the building of the Pan-American railway. The article was transmitted to America by one of our consuls and was translated and published in the consular reports. It is as follows:

The construction of a pan-American railway to unite the three Americas, which was decided upon at the pan-American congress at Mexico, is now assured by the formation of the Pan-American Railway company at Guthrie, Okla., with a capital of $243,794,000. The line will start from Port Nelson, on the Hudson bay, thence to Winnipeg, and will traverse the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, and end at Buenos Ayres. Branch lines will be built to Rio de Janeiro and Valparaiso. The total length of the line will be about 11,000 miles. Only about one-half of this will be built, since existing lines cover the balance. It is estimated that it will cost $100,000,000 to build the connecting lines and that it will take eight years to complete it. Brazil and La Plata are being visited by an agent of the company.

There is no project put under way in recent years of more immediate importance to the American continents than the Pan-American railway. It will tend to civilize the countries through which it passes, to bring them closer to the United States, and for this reason to increase the influence of this country with the other nations of the western hemisphere. It will open vast and rich sections of country to American investments and in time will result in not only a closer commercial union between the nations traversed, but in a closer political union as well. It has long been the fond dream of certain Americans that in time there would be a greater United States of America stretching from the north to the south pole. However this may be, the Pan-American railway will tend to draw the peoples together in all real and beneficial ways, whether it serves to extend or eliminate mere boundary lines or not.

The project has been under consideration for a number of years, and preliminary steps have been taken toward the building of the road.

There is nothing inherently improbable in the story of the French paper, and it is to be hoped that it is true.

The official hullabaloo over the Slum catastrophe gives point to the old definition of an investigation as an effort to locate the responsibility for a disaster after it is too late to make any difference.

It is said that bee stings cure rheumatism, probably on the theory of substitution. The stings are so much worse they make you forget the rheumatism.

Jan Kubelik, the violinist, is the father of twins. Perhaps he grew tired of only one kind of music in his home.

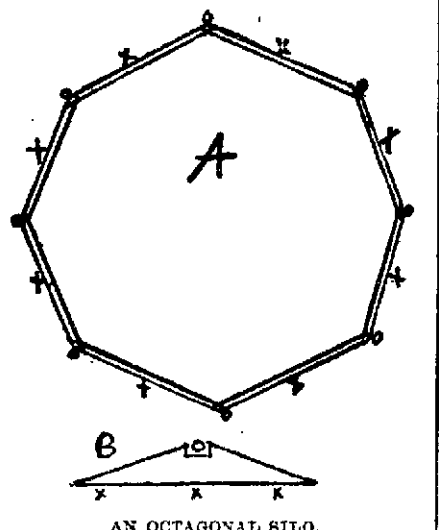

An exchange says that "Morocco needs a Richelieu." Morocco needs a spanking more than anything else.

A SATISFACTORY SILO.

Cheap to Build, a Permanent Structure and Gives Perfect Silage.

We have at one end of our barn an octagonal silo built in 1890 that gives us perfect silage. It is cheap to build, a permanent structure and has not cost one cent for repairs, writes a correspondent to Rural New Yorker. Fig. A in the cut illustrates the way the framework is set, made of 2 by 6 inch sticks cut whatever length is wished, depending on the size of the silo you wish to build. Our sticks are eight feet long, lap across ends and are spiked. These frames are set at different widths, being nearest together near the bottom of the silo, where the greatest strain comes. The first two are fifteen and eighteen inches apart, the next two feet, and from this up to three and one-half feet near the top. The whole framework for this silo can be carried in a one horse wagon, while our rectangular silo, having the same capacity, requires several two horse loads of heavy timber and yet it bulges at the sides. This one stays tight, as the pressure is practically equal all around the silo. There are no corners to speak of in this one and no spoiled silage.

We dug a ditch about eighteen inches wide and two feet deep around where the framework was to set; this we filled with small stones and cemented. The center was on hard pan leveled up with small stones and cemented, and after silo was made run up a little on the side of the silo so rats could not get under the bottom. Rats and mice, if possible, will burrow under a silo and let air in and spoil considerable silage. On this foundation we set our first framework and succeeding ones at various widths, as before stated, each section held up by a piece of 2 by 6 under the end of each piece, so that for each section eight shore pieces are required besides the 2 by 6 pieces. On the inside of this frame is one thickness of matched lumber running up and down, and the only care is to get each board tight at the ends of the framework section. One thickness is better than two, or two with paper between, as it will dry out quicker and last longer.

AN OCTAGONAL SILO.

The outside may be covered or not, as desired. We covered ours with matched lumber for looks largely, although it makes a dead air space, so that, though ours faces northwest and the mercury goes almost out of sight sometimes, we are not bothered with frozen silage. We have two doors on one side for filling, and four doors open into the barn for feeding. These are simply traps between sections of the framework and are held in place by the silage.

A roof can be built or not, as desired. We like one to keep out snow, etc., but it is not necessary. An eight point roof can be made or a single pitch roof. We have two rods running around the silo, and these by use of the truss shown cover the lower six sections and are ample for the purpose. The truss is of two inch plank cut out as in the cut and placed in center of section at points marked on the framework, so that the rod strikes the eight outside corners and the width cut in the truss.

Sanitation in the Hog Lot.

There are a few fundamental facts to be remembered in order to avoid losses by reason of the presence of hog cholera or swine plague in the herd. The first is that these are specific germ diseases, disseminated by bacteria, and the contagion cannot be spread from one animal to another or from one herd to another except by these minute organisms. They may be carried in a multitude of ways—by the hogs themselves, on the clothing of persons, on vehicles, in feed, by dogs, birds and other animals or by streams. The breeding or feed of a hog cannot cause either disease, although bad methods may so weaken the constitution and vitality that the animal becomes more susceptible than would otherwise be the case. Second, diseases caused by bacteria may be prevented in large part by thorough disinfection. Third, bacteria are generally preserved in filth, and therefore scrupulous cleanliness will go far toward preventing outbreaks of disease in herds of hogs.

News and Notes.

Imports of cheese into the United States now exceed the exports.

Dried blood has been found very satisfactory by C. W. Burkett of North Carolina in feeding hogs when the animals are run down and thin in flesh.

Macaroni, vermicelli and all similar preparations constitute, as a whole, the most important item of breadstuffs imported for consumption into the United States.

Successful results with ginseng in Iowa are claimed from planting among evergreens and in walnut groves.

Cement is coming into greater use each year, and many new purposes for which it is excellent are being found.

It is claimed that flies may abstract as much as a pint of blood from an animal in a day.

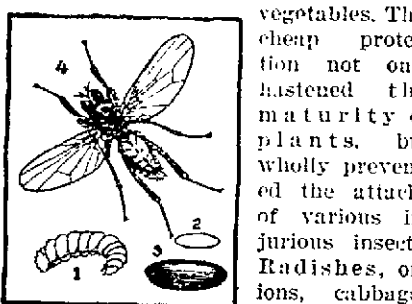

FARM GARDEN

CABBAGE PESTS.

Trouble With Root Maggots—Prevention and Cures—Plant Lice.

By D. F. SMITHSON.

Root maggots give considerable trouble to cabbage growers in many sections of the country. The cabbage or radish maggot and the onion maggot, which may be treated as practically of the same species, cause loss to cauliflower, early cabbages, turnips, radishes and onions. Experiments carried on last summer at the Canada experimental farms with the object of producing early tobacco and vegetables of high quality are interesting in this connection. An inclosure was made of a light framework of wood six feet in height and covered top and sides with cheesecloth. Within this were planted tobacco and various kinds of vegetables. This cheap protection not only hastened the maturity of plants, but wholly prevented the attacks of various injurious insects. Radishes, onions, cabbages and cauliflower developed well, case 4, fly; 1, 2 and 4 were entire root maggots. There was no trouble from cucumber beetles, so destructive to the various cucurbits. This tenting device seemed a sure means of securing perfect condition in vegetables such as cauliflower, cabbages, radishes, onions and others of moderate height that usually suffer from insect depredations. Instead of the tent, gardeners could use an easily made light framework three feet high and three feet wide for single rows in a garden.

CABBAGE MAGGOT. 1-3, maggot and pupa case; 4, fly; 1, 2 and 4 were entire root maggots.

A Maine cabbage grower says he entirely killed out root maggots in three days by the use of salt. One man dug around the roots of the cabbage, exposing the maggots; a second hand, following after him, applied a pinch of salt (as fine "coarse" salt as can be procured) to the maggots, and a third put back the earth.

Another application sometimes used in the same way is a half teaspoonful of a strong decoction of pyrethrum powder, four ounces to the gallon of water. It is poured around the roots of each plant after drawing the earth away right down to the rootlets. The earth is then pushed back again. Disks of tarred paper are considered one of the best preventives.

Plant lice of various kinds have been very abundant during a few seasons past. The cabbage and the turnip have their particular pest in this line, known as Aphis brassicae. John Fletcher, the Canadian entomologist, recommends that the insect be looked for when cabbage plants in gardens are being cultivated, and as soon as the first colonies appear, which will probably be late in July or in August, they should be attended to at once before they increase in number.

While oil soap, a pound in six gallons of water, or the ordinary one to nine dilution of kerosene emulsion, if sprayed thoroughly, will destroy the aphids. In turnip fields, where by far the greatest amount of injury is done, those engaged in thinning and hoeing should be constantly on the watch for infested plants, which may at that time be hoed out and destroyed. This will in many instances be sufficient to prevent the occurrence later of a serious outbreak.

The eggs of this insect are laid on the turnip tops late in autumn. This suggests the advisability of plowing down deeply all tops which are cut from the roots at the time of harvesting in autumn, so as to destroy the eggs. In fields of cabbages where also eggs are laid the same practice should prevail when the cabbages cannot be fed or are too poor to store for feed purposes.

CABBAGE APHIS. 1 and 2, male; 3 and 4, wingless female; 5 and 6 enlarged.

Root Obstruction to Drains.

As far as known, the roots of grasses, grains and annual field crops do not obstruct underground drains, but this is not the case with some trees. Among them are the willows, water elm, tamarack and sometimes the soft maple, which in a short time will fill the drain with a mass of root hairs, even when they are growing fifty feet distant from the line of the drain. Some field drains under ordinary conditions contain no water during a considerable portion of the growing season. Those drains which are fed by springs or have a continual flow through them are more subject to obstruction from the roots of trees than drains which are dry for a part of the year.

Where there is reason to suspect that there will be difficulty with tree roots the joints of the tiles near the trees should be securely cemented. It is safe to say that all willows and water elms growing within fifty feet of any tile drain should be destroyed irrespective of the flow of water in the drain.

A FREE TRIP

—TO THE—

Great St. Louis Exposition.

To one boy and one girl below the age of 19 years—receiving the greatest number of votes, will be given a Free Round-Trip Ticket To the Great St. Louis Exposition.

A vote is given with the purchase of each glass of soda 5 cents, and the contest begins Monday morning, May 9. The victor can elect to take the money if he cares to do so.

E. T. JOHNSON

Druggist.

No. 10 Warden Hotel Block.

DR. F. PRIEST,

Veterinary Surgeon, 58 South Fifth St.

All calls promptly attended to. Dentistry and surgery a specialty. Both phones.

Frank Mylius

Upholster, Carpet Cleaner

Both Phones.

DR. HARRY E. HUNT, HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN, NEWARK, OHIO.

RESIDENCE—56 North Second street. New phone 2 on 1022; Old phone Main 66.

OFFICE—Room 11, Lansing Block. New phone 1022.

Dr. J. T. Lewis, DENTIST.

Office, New Phone 818, 42 1-2 N. Third St. Res. Old Phone 403.

Teeth extracted without pain. Work guaranteed. Office hours 8 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5 p. m. Open Wednesday and Saturday evenings 7 to 8. Other evenings by appointment only.

A. N. BANTON

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR

AND SUPPLIES. Ceiling and desk fans. No. 49 N. 3rd St., with Sayre, the plumber. Citizens' phone, office 107; res. 564.

DR. R. A. BARRICK

DENTIST.

Three specialties, good advice, first class work, and moderate charges. If you want good work or a trial is all I ask. Work and charges warranted to be satisfactory. Vitality all administered for extracting teeth without pain.

Office 19 1/2 North Third street, Newark. NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an ordinance to change the route of the Columbus, Bluevale Lake and Newark Traction Co. is pending before the Council of the city of Newark, Ohio. 8-21-14. FRANK T. MAURATH, Clerk of Council.

DR. A. W. BEARD, DENTIST.

Office Hour 8 to 11:30, 12:30 to 5 p. m. Up-to-date methods in dentistry. Filling, Crowning and Bridge Work and Plates of all kinds. All work guaranteed. Extracting a specialty, and as near painless as possible. Gas and Vaseline Air used when desired. 272 1/2 South Third street, Old office of Carroll's dry goods store. North Third street.

John David Jones. Roderick Jones JONES & JONES, Attorneys at Law.

Practices in all the courts, both State and National. Prompt attention given to wills, conveyancing and Administrators and Guardians accounts, and all litigations. No. 14 Lansing House Block, Newark, O.

S. M. HUNTER. ROBBINS HUNTER, HUNTER & HUNTER, Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law, Newark, Ohio.

Will practice in Licking and adjoining counties in all the courts, county, state and federal. Special attention given to collections and the writing of deeds

Wash Goods at Half-Price

Tomorrow we will place on sale all of our 50c Wash Fabrics, choice for 25c a yard

This lot includes some splendid fabrics, such as French Lawns, Embroidered Swisses, Lorraine Barages, Mercerized Grenadines, Silk Gingham, White Linen Suitings and Mobile Mottled Voiles.

We also announce Big Reductions on all Summer Shirt Waists, Summer Suits and Duck Skirts.

THE
A. A. Griggs
COMPANY

For the Toilet

For the Laundry

WHITE HOUSE SOAP

TRY IT.

Ask Your Grocer.

to play 10 men, but the visitors still kept up hope. In the third inning Doyle hit a fast one to Gillespie, who booted it and after kicking it around for some time, picked up the ball and threw it to first, long after Doyle had crossed the bag, and the "umps" called him out, giving as his excuse that Doyle had failed to touch the bag when he ran over it.

The climax was reached in the fifth when Davis reached first on a clean single, stole second and the catcher threw the ball out into center field and it would have been easy for Davis to have reached third, but Eggert just deliberately caught and held him and Genslinger paid no attention to it whatever. Eggert sprained Davis' shoulder quite badly, but the latter finished the game.

Big Bill Farrah was sent into the box for Idlewild and did himself honors by his great pitching as only four hits were made off his delivery. Jutzi was in the box for Piqua and was given everything that came near the plate. Wagner played a good game, making a sensational stop of a hit over second.

PURTELL AND SNYDER.

Willie Purcell may join the Decatur (Ill.) club again this coming Sunday. Manager Behring is badly in need of a third baseman and telegrams have been coming fast the last two days. Behring makes the claim that he has secured Purcell's release from the Columbus club. Purcell will not sign a contract, however, in case he goes and will play under the same agreement as he played there in the spring when he came home suffering from stomach trouble. "Lefty" Snyder has also been offered $125 a month to go West.—Columbus Dispatch.

DOCTORS VS. MERCHANTS.

The Doctors and Merchants baseball teams which have been awaiting impatiently for the time to come when they might meet, and by the employment of their best talent, decide which team should have the distinction of being the champions of the "Home League," will play their game at Idlewild Friday afternoon. This will doubtless be a fast game, and the work of several organized companies of rooters who are planning to be present, to help cheer the favorite team to victory will be one of the features of the game. The game will be called at 3:30 p. m. Admission 10c., ladies free. Grandstand 5c to all.

PITCHER WESP MISSING.

Coshocton, O., July 14.—Coshocton easily defeated Dennison 9 to 0, Wednesday. Pitcher Wesp, the star left-hander, is missing from the team and has been for a week.

SIDNEY RACES.

The 2:20 pace, Lydite, won; Billy Whalebone, second; Eugene C, third. Best time—2:12 1-4.
The 2:17 trot, Honeymoon, won; Harry J, second; Carrie Nation, third. Best time—2:17 3-4.
Maude Dillard won; High Seven second; Violette, third. Best time—2:17 1-4.
Sacred Band Concert at Buckeye Lake Park, Sunday, July 17. 7:15.

TELEPHONE

Stock Owned By 75 Well-Known Newark Men and Women—Good Chance For Investment.

On July 1, The Newark Telephone Company declared a dividend of 3 per cent on its preferred stock, making a net investment of 6 per cent a year due to the fact that this stock is free from taxes to holders.

Whoever purchases this stock before the 15th of July will have their stock dated back to July 1, thereby gaining the full dividend of 3 percent on January 1, 1905.

Make your investment while there is yet time. The proceeds from the sale of this stock will be used to increase the earnings of the plant. Seventy-five Newark men and women are investors in this growing concern. Call and investigate our plant and you will be well pleased.

NEWARK TELEPHONE CO.,
381-9 North Third Street.
Chas. E. Hollander, Manager.

The oldest university in the world is El-Azhar in Cairo, Egypt, founded A. D. 975.

Use Allen's Foot-Powder

A powder to be shaken into the shoes. Your feet feel swollen, nervous and damp, and get tired easily. If you have aching feet, try Allen's Foot-Powder. It rests the feet and makes new or tight shoes easy. Cures itching, swollen, sweating feet, blisters and callous spots. Relieves chilblains, corns and bunions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it today. Sold by all Druggists. Do not accept any substitute. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

SHOT

Himself Through the Temple

BERT. HUSTON OF GRANVILLE
COMMITTS SUICIDE

Body Was Found by a Neighbor
Thursday Afternoon.

PARALYZED SINCE LAST APRIL

The Old Soldier Became Despondent
and Ended Life With Bullet Through Temple.

Granville, O., July 14.—Bert Huston, an old and well-known citizen of Granville, committed suicide shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon by shooting himself through the temple. The unfortunate man was all alone at the time at his home on Cherry street when the fatal deed was done. His wife had gone to Newark on business and Mr. Huston, who was sick and despondent from an attack of paralysis received some time ago, committed the fatal act during her absence. He had obtained possession of a revolver in some manner and had shot himself through the temple. He was found by Hiram Partidge, a neighbor, in a large chair on the porch, where he had shot himself. The deceased was an old soldier and a very highly respected citizen. He was about 70 years, and up to the time of receiving the stroke of paralysis had enjoyed good health.

He leaves a widow and two sons, Charles and Bert, who are engineers on the T. & O. C. R. R., with headquarters in Bucyrus. He also has a married daughter.

The deceased was a member of Co. D, 113th O. V. I., and had been paralyzed since last April. He was also a brother-in-law of Will Montoya, who dropped dead here some time ago.

Coroner Legge of Newark, was immediately notified and repaired to the scene viewed the remains and will return a verdict in accordance with the facts.

It is said that a razor was found in the possession of the dead man, which he had evidently secured for the purpose of finishing the job should the bullet fail to do its work quickly.

ANOTHER CHERRY TREE ACCIDENT.

Jacksontown, July 14.—Arthur Lasure, the little son of Mrs. William Custer, fell from a cherry tree and broke his right arm.

A WAY OPEN.

Many a Newark Reader Krows It Well. There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Newark people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof the like of which has never been produced before in Newark. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. John Goodwin, No. 9 Meyers street, says: "My back was so painfully troublesome that I could neither sit, stand or lie down with comfort. It was the first time that I had anything wrong with my kidneys and happening to see Doan's Kidney Pills endorsed locally so I sent to Crayton's drug store and got a box. After I had been using them a short time I felt that I was improving. My back finally got well so that I was before long able to be around again."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

STERRETT

WAS NOT ALLOWED TO ATTEND
HIS WIFE'S FUNERAL

In Cases of This Degree Prisoners Can Not Be Admitted To Jail—Hearing Monday.

Clarence W. Sterrett, the Newton township plasterer, who is charged with murdering his wife, spent a comfortable night in the county jail sleeping a good portion of the time.

As soon as the attaches of the jail were awakened a request was submitted asking that the prisoner be permitted to attend the funeral. This request was also submitted to the mayor who said that under the circumstances and the charges made in the affidavit, no bail amount would be allowed. So Sterrett did not attend the obsequies.

The remains were interred Thursday morning in Barnes' cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. H. Newton Miller of Newark.

As stated in Wednesday's Advocate, the preliminary hearing will be conducted before Mayor Crilly at 9 o'clock next Monday morning.

Three Per Cent Dividend.

At the regular meeting of the directors of the Citizens Building Association held Wednesday night, a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent. was declared and ordered placed to the credit of each share of stock. This meant that each customer of the Citizens will be paid in cash or have his loan stock credited with a 3 per cent dividend, no more nor no less. The condition of the Citizens is very prosperous, and homebuilders should investigate its liberal plans. 14d7c

OBITUARY

MRS. CHARLES YOUSE.

Mrs. Mayme Youse, wife of Charles Youse, died Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. Youse's parents, 34 Jefferson street, after a lingering illness with tuberculosis. Mr. Youse, who is a well-known employee at the Wehrle foundry, will have the sympathy of a large number of friends. He had only married his wife a few months ago and all the indications were that she was improving up almost to the day of her death.

The funeral will be held at the home on Jefferson street, Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, and the services will be in charge of Rev. J. C. Schindel.

MISS JULIA HARRIS.

Miss Julia Harris, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harris, died Thursday morning at the home of her parents of diphtheria with which she was ill about seven weeks ago. Miss Harris was up to the time of her illness the bookkeeper and cashier at the shoe store of Carl & Seymour.

The funeral will be held at the Eden church Saturday morning and the interment will take place in the Eden cemetery.

DEATH AT FRAMPTON.

Frampton, O., July 14.—Death has again entered our vicinity and taken one of our aged and highly respected people, Mrs. Lavina Johnson. The funeral services were held at the home Monday and were conducted by Rev. Mr. Tedrick of Perryton. Interment was made in the West Carlisle cemetery.

MR. COFFMAN'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mr. D. T. Coffman who died Wednesday afternoon at Mary Ann Furnace, will take place Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Fifth Street Baptist church, the Rev. B. F. Patt officiating. The remains arrived in Newark Wednesday evening being taken to the home of his daughter on Central avenue.

Besides one brother, Mr. A. B. Coffman, ex-county auditor, and one sister Mrs. Amanda Rowe of East Newark, the deceased leaves a widow and eight children, William J. of DeCrown avenue; Mrs. Nora Rose, 225 Central avenue; Harry, Charles R., of DeCrown avenue; Mrs. J. B. Meyer, of Lincoln, Neb.; Mrs. F. M. Walker, of Hannibal, Mo.; Mrs. Fern Hupp and David who is employed at the Wehrle foundry. The other children, Thomas and Ella, are not living.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Calif., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me, though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Hall's Drug Store.

WOODMAN PICNIC.

You will have the time of your life at the least cost if you go to the Woodman picnic on July 21 at Buckeye Lake. 12:5t

All Madrid was buried in ice on June 6 in consequence of a hailstorm. Many of the hailstones were as big as pigeon's eggs.

GRANVILLE

IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE ON PHI GAM HOUSE.

Cemetery Being Put In Better Condition—Mrs. Beckel and Mother Called to Tyrone, Pa.

Granville, O., July 14.—Wm. F. Chamberlin of Dayton, was in the city, large on Wednesday, arranging for the work which is to be done on the Downer mansion, now owned by the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. It is understood that the Matron's apartments of two rooms and a bathroom are to be constructed and that the dining room is to be remodelled.

Your correspondent is glad to see that some attention is being given the old graveyard, where so many of the pioneer residents of Granville are sleeping. The grass and weeds are being cut and the cemetery put in nice condition. It may not be generally known to the citizens of Granville, although it is known to some, that this old graveyard, which is among the oldest in the State, contains the graves of quite a number of Revolutionary soldiers. In some cases these graves of the old heroes are neglected, and it seems to us that they ought to be looked up and put in proper condition. Where they are no markers to the graves proper headstones should be erected. If the citizens of Granville do not feel like moving in this matter it is probable that the Daughters of the American Revolution of Newark will, if the matter is called to their attention.

Miss Mary McKibbin is visiting Miss Ella Colley at her home in Dayton.

Prof. J. L. Gilpatrick is adding a fine veranda to his house on Prospect Hill.

The young ladies who have enjoyed Miss Clara Pollett's hospitality at "Bunker's Lodge" this week, with a few other friends, formed a jolly picnic party at the camp grounds on Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Beckel and mother, Mrs. Graham, were called to Tyrone, Pa., by the sickness and death of Mrs. Beckel's brother, Mr. Samuel Graham.

Mrs. Fernald, wife of Dr. Fernald, is visiting relatives in McConnellsville.

An old farmer of Granville township said to an Advocate reporter: "I took a drive through the country the first of the week and I never saw so much wet hay. Along the way grass has been mown down and was lying in the fields in a soaked condition. I talked with several farmers and all were downcast because they say the weather has been against them in everything this spring and summer. Comparatively little hay has been made, but if the sun shines brightly for a few days many tons will be stowed away."

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smoots and son, Ralph, who have been making an extended visit in the west and at the St. Louis Fair, returned home on Thursday.

Local 401 Expressman and Draymen Union request all members to be present on Thursday evening. Important business. Charles Sasser, Pres. 12d8t

TO WORLDS FAIR

ALL EXPENSES FROM COLUMBUS,
O., AND RETURN ONLY $28.75.

Trip Includes Railroad Fare, Hotel Expenses, Tickets to Ground, Trip on Mississippi River, Etc.

A great excursion will start from Columbus, O., on Tuesday morning, July 19th, bound for the Great World's Fair at St. Louis.

The complete seven day trip including railway fare both ways, room and meals at the beautiful Grand View Fraternal Hotel, noon luncheon at the elegant Fraternity Cafe on the World's Fair grounds each day, tickets of admission to the grounds each day, street car fare in St. Louis, and a delightful trip down the beautiful Mississippi river, all for $28.75.

Think of it, only $28.75 for the entire bill. You must act quick if you desire to take advantage of this exceptionally low offer. For particulars address World's Fair Fraternal Excursion Bureau, Fayden Clinton Bank Building, Columbus, O.

Note—Those living in or near Newark can take interurban car out of Newark for Columbus at 4:40 a. m., at Eleventh and West Main streets, arriving in Columbus at 6:00 a. m., 40 minutes before our excursion leaves the Union Depot. 6-28t&th-4t

ON THE TRACK

THE FRIGHTENED HORSE JUMPED NEAR NEWCOMERTOWN.

One Person Killed and Two Injured—Children Were Riding With
M. B. Kennedy.

New Philadelphia, O., July 14.—An appalling accident occurred at Newcomertown, south of this place, yesterday, when M. B. Kennedy, a prominent miller and trustee of the Children's Home was delivering feed. He had taken two little children—Albert Wier and Frances Lydick—along, when at Church street the horse became frightened and jumped on the Cleveland and Marietta track in front of a coal train. The wagon was upset, and the occupants thrown out. The cars passed over the head of Albert severing it from the body. The little girl and Kennedy were badly injured. The children belonged to neighbors of Kennedy and were accustomed to riding with him.

RUMOR

(Continued from Page One.)
army on the night of July 11 attacked Port Arthur and was heavily defeated, an immense number being killed by Russian mines. The total loss is about $6,000.

There is great interest throughout St. Petersburg for further details of the disaster. It has developed that the official report which was at first supposed to emanate directly from Viceroy Alexieff was not specifically fathered by him but was given out as a report reaching his headquarters from "Japanese sources." What these sources are has not yet been explained. Possibly the report was intercepted by wireless telegraphs, but it is more likely that it came from the Russian Consul at Chifu or the Russian Consul at Tien-Tsin.

A full report on the subject is awaited from Lieutenant General Stoessel, commander of the military forces at Port Arthur.

D. OF A. ENTERTAINMENT.

Banner Council, No. 101, will give an entertainment and social at A. O. U. W. hall Saturday evening, July 16. A fine program will be carried out. Admission, with refreshments, 10 cents. 7-14-2t*

The men who draw the beer from kegs in Munich restaurants get no pay from the proprietor. They are responsible for a certain number of glasses from each keg; whatever they can sell beyond that, by not quite filling the mugs, is theirs.

PIQUA

SHUT OUT THE NEWARK TEAM
AND SCORED TWO RUNS.

"Scottie" Wires That the Deal Wasn't a Good One—The Sidney Races—Other Sports.

The game between Piqua and Newark Wednesday at Piqua was won by the Blacks. Jutze outpitching Farrell, who was sent into the box for Newark by Captain Wagner. All that is known of the game is a telegram from "Scottie" which says, "Piqua 2, Idlewild 0, a rotten deal." From the tone of this telegram it would seem that Newark is up against an umpire who cannot give them an even break and Kennedy, when he was in Newark, offered to bet a $5 hat that Idlewild would not make a run off him. Jutzi pitched Wednesday's game, and Kennedy has yet to make good a wager that would fit out most of the baseball fans in Newark who were willing to take his bet. With a new "bonnet," as "Roaring Bill" announced at the close of the last Piqua game here, "They'll not make a run off me when they play in Piqua."

The score for Wednesday's game follows:

R H E
Piqua . . . 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 *—2 6 0
Newark . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 3 1
Batteries—Jutzi and Wharton; Farrell and Snodgrass. Umpire—Genslinger.

In a special to the Advocate from Piqua the following details of the game are given:

Davis, the new center fielder, led off for Newark and was called out on balls that didn't even come close to the plate. It was plain that they were

Prepared under GERMAN LAWS, is Excellent for

INFLUENZA,

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc.

"ANCHOR" PAIN EXPELLER.

What one physician out of many testifies:

New York, April 25th, 1899.

I have found Dr. Richter's "ANCHOR" PAIN EXPELLER to be an invaluable remedy in almost all cases where a liniment is required, especially for Influenza, Colds, etc.

Gold Medal 134 RIVINGTON ST. N. Y.

36 HIGHEST NATIONAL AWARDS.

Recommended by prominent Physicians, Wholesale and Retail Druggists, Minsters, etc.